

PINAY CALLS FOR UNIFIED GERMANY, REJECTS SOVIET IDEA OF NEUTRAL BUFFER

FRENCH FOREIGN MINISTER URGES EQUAL SECURITY FOR ALL AS AIM

Tells U.N. This Is One of Chief Issues Dividing East and West—Cautious Optimism on Disarmament.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23 (AP)—French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay today called for a unified Germany, but declared the West must reject Soviet efforts to turn it into a neutral buffer.

"German unity must be established with equal security for all," Pinay told the U.N.'s tenth anniversary session as it went into its fourth day.

"We must rule out the misconception of a neutral Germany which might some day become an overgrown Germany, and also rule out the senselessness of a neutral Germany, for a great people cannot indefinitely be subjected to trusteeship."

"We must, in my opinion, give a free Germany the choice of being associated to a system of security, including reciprocal limitation and control of armaments."

A Leading Problem.

Pinay called the German problem one of the main problems that divide the East and West.

The French diplomat made no specific mention of yesterday's speech by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, but in effect his remarks on Germany answered at least one of Molotov's points.

He also made it clear that the German question would offer a major challenge to the Big Four summit meeting in Geneva next month.

Pinay dealt with the disarmament problem briefly, expressing a cautious optimism that some progress was being made.

"An agreement (on disarmament) is perhaps far ahead still," he said, "for the basic question of control has not yet been solved. But agreement has been reached on certain fundamental notions. We are resolved to leave no stone unturned in order to reach our goal."

Pinay referred only briefly to the summit talks.

"This tenth anniversary is celebrated at a time when the peoples have felt that they could discern in recent events a few rays of hope," he said. "Never had their expectations been so high. And never had the responsibility of the governments become so heavy."

"This is not the time to anticipate the four-power talks that will open next month in Geneva. Our mission is to develop with an open and clear mind confident relations between all states. Our will is to go forward with this task, at the price of unflagging effort."

"Our hope is to succeed in going beyond the concept of two isolated worlds in order to make mankind united at last in its ascent toward a higher destiny."

To Remain in NATO.

The United Press said Pinay asserted that France will remain a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, because such regional security agreements

NEHRU, BULGANIN CALL FOR GIVING FORMOSA TO REDS

They Issue Joint Statement Which Also Urges Bar on Nuclear Weapons, U.N. Seat for Peiping.

MOSCOW, June 23 (AP)—The premiers of Russia and India came out jointly today for a bar on nuclear weapons, a United Nations seat for Communist China and the surrender of Formosa to the Chinese Reds.

The declaration was signed last night by India's Prime Minister, Nehru and Soviet Premier Bulganin and published this morning at the end of Nehru's 17-day visit to the Soviet Union.

The statement contained little that the two men or their governments had not said before. But it was the first time they had said it together.

Nehru and Bulganin called also for a "simultaneous and substantial reduction of conventional armaments" with "effective international control." They cited the recent Soviet disarmament proposals as a "substantial contribution to peace."

The document was published less than three hours before Nehru boarded a plane for Warsaw to spend three days before pushing on to Belgrade, Vienna, Rome and London. (Warsaw

PUP OWNER FAILS IN DOGGED EFFORT TO HEAR MOLOTOV

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23 (AP)—Alert guards spotted a man with a bulge under his coat entering the auditorium as Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov addressed the U.N. Assembly yesterday.

Policemen rushed him out, searched and found a tiny puppy snuggled under his arm.

The man had a ticket (they're mighty scarce) . . . couldn't bear to lock the puppy alone in his car . . . so he brought it along.

The guards enforced the dog rules—and along went the owner.

CHESS PLAYERS FROM U.S. ON WAY TO PLAY RUSSIANS

NEW YORK, June 23 (AP)—Four United States chess players are en route to Moscow for a rematch with the Russian world champions. Last year the Soviet team won easily from the Americans in this country.

Israel Horowitz, one of the American team, said yesterday before boarding an airliner: "We expect to do better than last year because we have practiced, we are sharper and we know more about the tactics of the opposition."

Leaving with Horowitz were Samuel Reshevsky, top chess player in the United States, and Arthur Bisguier and Lawrence Evans, who rank second and third respectively. Horowitz ranks No. 6.

The rest of the team is scheduled to leave today.

AIR FORCE CHAPEL 'MODEL' NO DESIGN—JUST CARDBOARD

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—That "model" of the proposed Air Force Academy chapel which has caused a lot of furor was just a folded piece of cardboard used in the absence of a design, says Secretary of Air Talbott.

Representative Bennett (Dem.), Florida, who did not like the looks of the chapel when he saw a photograph of the academy layout, wrote Talbott and told him so. He got back this reply:

"As yet no design has been undertaken for a chapel. In the absence of such a design, one of the architects merely folded a piece of cardboard and placed it on the chapel location in order that they might at least know where the chapel was to be built. Unfortunately, this has created a certain amount of misunderstanding."

Talbott also said that the Air Force believes it has "probably the finest and most complete group of architects and engineers that have ever been assembled in a building enterprise."

PERON ACCEPTS RESIGNATIONS OF ALL IN CABINET, PLANS CHANGES

New Government Reported to Provide Guarantees of Press Freedom—He Gets Backing of Lucero.

BUENOS AIRES, June 23 (AP)—President Juan D. Peron, his grip on Argentina still intact, today accepted the resignations of all 16 members of his cabinet and prepared to reorganize his government.

He arranged a broadcast to the nation tonight, his fourth since the revolt of navy flyers and marines was put down by the army a week ago. It was expected he would announce changes in store for the country in the broadcast.

(The United Press quoted authoritative government sources as saying that the new government would provide guarantees of freedom of the press.)

Pushes Dual Campaign.

Backed by new pledges of military and political support, Peron pushed a dual campaign against those who tried to overthrow him and against persons spreading rumors of upsets still to come.

To counter one persistent rumor that Army Minister Franklin Lucero had supplanted Peron as Argentina's strong man, a government spokesman predicted last night that the President soon would end Lucero's special powers as temporary chieftain of all armed services.

Gen. Lucero himself in a press conference last night saluted Peron as "the President of the nation and commander in chief of all the armed forces." The general called on the troops to "obey loyally and permanently the mandate of the sovereign people."

Statements pledging loyalty to Peron were issued yesterday by the 6,000,000-member General Labor Confederation (CGT), the President's chief political bully boy, and by both men's and women's Peronist parties.

Campaign Against Rumors.

The roundup of rumor mongers followed repeated statements by Lucero that numerous false reports were circulating and should be ignored.

Federal police announced 14 persons were arrested for spreading untruths in Buenos Aires province, which surrounds the capital city but does not include it.

The pro-government newspaper La Epoca reported at least six arrests in the capital, one of them turned over to police by a taxicab driver and another by a barber.

The Supreme War Council, meanwhile, continued daily sessions in judgment of those arrested for complicity in the revolt. It announced that "numerous" marines, conscripts, noncommissioned officers and officers who had been performing their duties at the Navy Ministry when the fighting broke out had been freed yesterday. The ministry was the headquarters for the rebels, who mainly were navy personnel.

Four U.S. Correspondents Held.

Police yesterday arrested four United States correspondents who were taken into custody for a burned church. They were released after two hours.

The Americans were Life magazine photographer Hank Walker and Time magazine reporter Phillip Payne, both of Washington, D.C.; Jeff Sabin, television photographer of NBC, New York, and NBC's Buenos Aires correspondent Bob Lindley.

Walker said they were treated courteously and served coffee but that the police seized two rolls of film from him and one roll from Sabin.

President Goes Fishing.

After breakfast, the President went out to fish in nearby streams and ponds.

The President arrived in Rutland from Washington about mid-day yesterday and a couple hours later at the fairgrounds in Rutland, arriving there after a 26-minute flight. He will make an address from the steps of the State Capitol.

The President breakfasted at Mountain Top Inn with 100 women delegates from farm organizations, attending the state dairy festival. He received several gifts from them, including a package of maple sugar for which Vermont is famous.

Thanking the women for the gifts, Mr. Eisenhower told them he had "made some new friends among a people with whom I am going to leave a big portion of my heart."

Opposition Radical Deputy Donato Latella Fries also presented a bill to set aside a 100,000,000-peso credit to restore Roman Catholic churches damaged in the fighting.

McNary said he thought the county should file a court suit to invalidate any tax commission order that "directs a blanket increase."

He also said the council should determine whether it has the authority to stop any county official from complying with the order until its validity is determined in court.

Releases from the presidential press secretariat reported the President was carrying on his duties normally. Announcements said he held audiences yesterday in his temporary offices at his residence in the Palermo district and presided at the regular weekly meeting of his 16-member cabinet.

COUNTY POLICE FORCE DUE TO BE NAMED IN TIME TO START JULY 1

93 Being Chosen Now—
Council Approves
$247,667 Outlay for Six Months and Plan to Lease Quarters.

The new St. Louis County Police Department expects to complete final selection of its 93-member force by next Wednesday or Thursday, in time to begin operations on the scheduled date, July 1. Walter L. Metcalfe, chairman of the Board of Police Commissioners, said today.

"Our announcement followed approval by the County Council yesterday of a bill appropriating $247,667 for the department's first six months of operation, and of a plan to lease quarters for the department in Clayton Masonic Lodge Hall, 9 North Meramec avenue.

"We are proceeding with screening of present deputies now," Metcalfe said. "Final oral interviews of new applicants will be given tomorrow and Saturday. Our goal is to know where we stand by Monday morning, then announce the actual complement a day or so later."

The appropriations bill also provided funds totaling $128,215 to finance operations of Sheriff Arthur C. Mosley's office and the offices of four county constables for the six months beginning July 1, the date on which their law enforcement functions are scheduled to be taken over by the new department.

Court Ruling Awaited.

Sheriff Mosley has served notice that he would continue his police functions until the Missouri Supreme Court has ruled on a pending suit in which the legality of the charter amendment setting up the county police department was challenged.

The five members of the County Council who were present yesterday passed the appropriations bill unanimously, but only after objections were expressed by two Republican members, Harold D. Carey and Frank L. Martini. They said the salary scale for the police department was unfair to other county employees.

Carey called the bill "a fraud on the people" because, he said, it would increase expenditures for the department over what had been anticipated. It was pointed out that the $4200 provided as a starting annual salary for police officers was higher than starting salaries in some other departments of the county organization.

Carey and Martini made similar objections to another ordinance that was passed unanimously, authorizing a 93-member police force, including Superintendent Albert E. DuBois. The department had requested $343,693 for its first six months of operation, and total personnel of 115 men.

Votes Explained.

The two Republicans said they had voted favorably on the measure because they did not want to interfere with establishment of the new department, and because of the fact that only a week remains before the date the department is to take over police functions.

County Supervisor Luman F. Matthews was authorized by the Council to negotiate for lease of the Masonic Hall headquarters, but Democratic members made it clear they felt the department should move immediately into the courthouse.

Following the meeting, Matthews said he hoped the department could be moved to the courthouse as soon as space could be made available. The Council had been warned that unless immediate action were taken to lease a site, the necessary telephone and radio installation could not be made by July 1.

Action on Voting Machines.

In other business before the Council yesterday, the second effort to obtain adoption of a resolution calling for purchase of 200 additional voting machines

LAST OF SHIP STRIKES END WITH VICTORY FOR 4 UNIONS

NEW YORK, June 23 (AP)—Week-long shipping tie-ups of varying degree on the east and gulf coasts have ended in victory for four maritime unions.

The last segment of the strike ended late yesterday when three relatively small unions of officers and other licensed personnel reached agreement with the Sinclair Oil Co. on a contract for its tanker crews.

The much larger CIO National Maritime union, composed mostly of unlicensed seamen, already had come to terms with tanker operators.

The dispute between three of the unions and the operators of passenger ships and freighters was settled last Saturday.

The ship operators granted the major demands of the unions. Among the varying benefits won by one or more of the unions were a guaranteed wage plan, an unemployment insurance fund financed by the employers, differing pay increases, increased pensions and welfare fund payments by the companies, extended vacations and working hour concessions.

3 SUBPENAED IN GRAND JURY 'PAY-OFF' INQUIRY

Some Testimony in Brothel Investigation Delayed by Circuit Attorney.

Three witnesses have been subpoenaed for appearance today before the circuit court grand jury in its inquiry into reported pay-offs to some policemen by brothel operators.

However, the circuit attorney's office has adopted the practice of questioning prospective witnesses prior to the time they are to go before the jury.

In some instances, when a witness indicates a reluctance to co-operate or maintains he has no information of value, his appearance before the grand jury is postponed pending further investigation by the circuit attorney's office.

Occurred Yesterday.

That occurred yesterday, when the scheduled testimony of one or two witnesses was canceled, at least temporarily.

Samuel H. Schwartz, convicted Mann Act violator and former operator of the Grant Hotel, 4035 Olive street, is among the three witnesses subpoenaed for today.

Circuit Attorney Edward L. Dowd is seeking to determine if any payments were made to police to permit Schwartz to operate without interference.

Schwartz is awaiting sentence on three morals charges to which he pleaded guilty March 31. The charges involve an 18-year-old girl, who has told authorities she earned $8000 in eight months prior to last June working for Schwartz, who took all her money.

Not Sentenced.

Despite the guilty plea, Schwartz has not been sentenced because of three continuances granted by Circuit Judge James F. Nangle.

The pay-off investigation started as a result of statements made by Pauline Cloin, who was employed by Mrs. June Alma Lytz, brothel operator murdered April 21.

Mrs. Lytz operated June's Massage Parlor at 308A North Theresa avenue and formerly had an establishment at the northeast corner of Boyle and Chouteau avenues.

The call for United Nations admission of all qualified applicants named no countries specifically, except Red China.

In referring to the Indochna Armistice, the declaration pointed out that Russia had been a co-chairman of the Geneva conference and India was chairman of the armistice supervisory commission for Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

It said implementation of the armistice agreements "has on the whole so far been satisfactory" but "the progress . . . is now in some danger of being obstructed by new and unexpected developments."

Presumably this referred to recent reports from Saigon that the South Viet Nam government might oppose the holding of the July 1956 elections.

The two premiers said no international question is "more pressing or fraught with graver consequences to the issue of war and peace than that of disarmament."

My country does not regard it as unfair that common defense arrangements be devised among allies and their implementation subjected to unanimous decision. It deems on the contrary that such arrangements offer the best guarantee for peace."

WESTERN VIEWS OF MOLOTOV TALKBy GEORGE H. HALL
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's tough speech before the United Nations' tenth anniversary session reflected Russia's public attitude and was not necessarily an indication of what the Soviet Union may demand at the Big Four heads-of-government meeting in Geneva.

That is the interpretation of some Western officials who pointed out that Molotov's address yesterday served to demonstrate once again that the Russians have at least two strings to their bow when it comes to foreign policy.

Unacceptable Demands.

Within the same 24 hours that Molotov publicly urged withdrawal of Big Four troops from Germany, the admission of Communist China to the United Nations, the dismantling of the great powers' military bases in foreign territories and other concessions unacceptable to the United States he was privately confirming the impressions of diplomats that the Russians are ready to talk sense at Geneva.

A State Department spokesman had an official "no comment" on the Molotov address. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles described to reporters as "old stuff" Molotov's disarmament proposal. When asked for his reaction to the speech as a whole, Dulles answered: "I will save my reactions to Mr. Molotov's speech for my own talk on Friday."

After listening to Molotov, Dulles spent most of the remainder of the day working on the speech he will give before the U.N. tomorrow.

Dulles was the luncheon guest of Molotov at suburban Hillsborough today.

Bargaining Position.

In evaluating Molotov's speech there was some disposition to regard the Soviet conditions for peaceful solutions as a sort of "first position" for bargaining at Geneva, but in general it was thought the Soviet diplomats was mainly repeating the familiar Communist line.

There was a little surprise he did not "let loose a flock of doves," since he had been proposing a resounding peace delegation privately to U.N. delegations and officials, and some surprise that he said:

"Some countries have of late become the scene of an unprecedented armaments race that lays on the masses of the people an enormous burden of military expenditures."

Whether this amounted to confirmation of the Western theory that the Russians are ready to ease tensions because of economic pressures within Russia, was a matter for speculation.

As the U.N. commemorative session opened for its fourth day of speech-making, there was still little public comment among the delegates here to Molotov's speech.

One leader who did comment on Molotov's talk was Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, of the Philippines, who said it was "the same old broken record."

Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak regarded the speech as "conciliatory" and "certainly worthy of the West's attention."

Apparently Molotov's only new proposal was his suggestion that "the time is ripe" for the United Nations to consider the calling of a world economic conference to facilitate the development of international trade. It would include members and non-members of the U.N.

Cuban Denounces Russia.

A subsequent speaker, Dr. Emilio Nunez-Portuondo, drew loud applause with a bitter attack on the Soviet Union before he was silenced by Eelco N. Van Kleefens, president of the commemorative meeting.

Nunez-Portuondo, Cuba's permanent representative to the U.N., charged that Russia's chief aim in foreign policy was to isolate the United States from its "natural allies" and said Russia had brought the U.N. to the verge of collapse by invoking its veto power on 39 occasions in the last 10 years.

Molotov has had private conversations here with a number of leading U.N. delegates. Many of these discussions have taken place at the Russians' rented estate at Hillsborough, 15 miles from San Francisco.

British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan went to Hillsborough Tuesday evening and spent more than an hour with the Soviet minister.

The two men, with interpreters and a few aids, sat on wicker chairs beside a swimming pool and talked of subjects with a far wider range than the questions of procedure at Geneva which the Western Big Three foreign ministers proposed to Molotov Monday night.

It was reported that as the men conversed the questions of mechanical procedure at Geneva, concerning which there has been so much talk, fell into perspective as not worth arguing about at the foreign minister level. It was decided earlier to leave the important matter of the agenda up the heads of government.

Macmillan Impressed.

The talk was a general and philosophical examination of the state of the world and although the men expressed different viewpoints and reached no major agreements, Macmillan came away with the firm impression that the Russians would get down to business at the Geneva conference, which is to open July 18.

Macmillan and Molotov were in agreement on one point, however, that there should be on the first day of the Geneva meeting two sessions of the heads of state — President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Eden of Britain, Premier Faure of France and Premier Bulganin of Russia. On the second day there should be a meeting of the foreign ministers in the morning and a meeting of the heads of state in the afternoon, they thought.

Western diplomats continue to stress the view that the world should not expect too much of Geneva. They feel some of the smaller nations, judging by expressions of U.N. delegates, are far too hopeful with respect to concrete results. Western Big Three diplomats are optimistic over the possibility a good start will be made at Geneva, but they expect talk and negotiations to go on for two or three years, perhaps longer, before major agreements are reached.

The Longer the Better.

They say, in fact, the longer the better. There is less chance of an explosion while talks are in progress and in the course of time some problems, like that of Germany, may in part solve themselves.

Macmillan left here last night for Copenhagen. He told reporters he had been "neither too optimistic nor too pessimistic" about the Geneva conference, but said it should "pave the way for peaceful co-existence between the Communist and non-Communist worlds."

Of Molotov's speech, he said it appeared to be a restatement of old things. Molotov had said before that he was "not disappointed." He added: "You don't show your cards before playing the game."

Earlier, in a luncheon speech at the Commonwealth Club, Macmillan seemed to be softly rethinking the United States when he defended British recognition of Communist China and Britain's trade with China. He said a "false diplomatic doctrine" has grown up about this in recent years.

"Your country and mine are in reality with many governments," he said. "We don't by any means approve of them all. All the same, we find it useful to send ambassadors and to have diplomatic relations with such governments."

Not To Please Them.

"We do it, to be frank, to benefit ourselves, not to please them."

Recognition of a government "not in the old days" was taken as a "sort of diploma or certificate of approval," he said.

The United States has refused to recognize the Peiping regime, or trade with it, and has been in the forefront of the move to block admission of China into the United Nations.

Yugoslav S. Koca Popovic told U.N. delegates in a speech yesterday that his country, despite the visit there recently of Premier Bulganin of the Soviet Union and other Russian leaders, is still strictly neutral.

Popovic said Yugoslavia is situated "at the margin of the two blocs" but belongs to neither.

The Yugoslav policy, he asserted, is one of "active co-existence," in which his country intends to remain fully independent but will not evade any of its international responsibilities.

London, June 23 (UPI)—The Queen Elizabeth sailed today for New York, carrying 1315 passengers and hopes of the Cunard Line of breaking a three-week seamen's strike that has crippled Britain's luxury trans-Atlantic passenger fleet.

The 83,000-ton flagship of the Cunard Line set out from Southampton fully manned. It headed first for Cherbourg, France, to pick up an additional 635 passengers. These will bring its load for the Atlantic crossing within 150 of capacity.

Shouts of strikers from six strikebound Cunard liners were drowned out by the horns of the Queen Elizabeth as it steamed out of Southampton harbor 13 minutes behind schedule.

Experts Vote 8 to 2 in Favor Of Continuing Salk Inoculations

Third Opinion Against Shots Received in Letter—Dr. Salk Declines to Join in House Poll.

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—A panel of medical experts voted 8 to 2 today in favor of continuing the present program of inoculating youngsters with the Salk polio vaccine.

The vote was taken at a meeting of the medical men before a House Commerce subcommittee. Four of the 14 panel members declined to vote.

In addition to those present and voting, there was a letter from Dr. William McB. Hamm, of the University of Pittsburgh, who was not present, favoring a halt to the program. Counting it, the vote was 8 to 3.

The controversial question was raised by Dr. Albert Sabin of the Children's Hospital Research Foundation, Cincinnati, who said the present vaccine is potentially too dangerous for use.

Among those present, Sabin gave support only from Dr. John F. Enders of the Children's Hospital, Boston.

Among those voting to keep the program going was Dr. James A. Shannon, associate director of the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md., and Dr. Thomas Francis Jr., of the School of the Public Health of the University of Michigan, one of the leading forces in getting the Salk vaccine program under way.

Salk Declines to Vote.

Dr. Jonas E. Salk, developer of the vaccine, elected not to vote. He said he regarded himself as an investigator and did not wish to get involved in the round table vote which was requested by Representative Wolverton (Rep.), New Jersey.

The vote has no legal or legislative effect. It amounts to an expression of the expert opinion the subcommittee sought in assembling the medical men for a round table discussion.

Dr. Sabin expressed the view yesterday that inoculations should be suspended and vaccine manufacture halted until a "less virulent" strain of polio virus was substituted for that now used.

At that time, Dr. Thomas M. Rivers of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, New York, said "it would be tragic if we stopped now."

Dr. Salk expressed no opinion at the hearing but later told reporters he saw no reason for halting the present program. However, he said his vaccine might eventually be developed along the lines Dr. Sabin suggested.

Others Favoring Continuance.

Voting with Francis and Shannon for continuing the inoculation program were Dr. Rivers, Dr. Daniel Bergsma, New Jersey Commissioner of Health; Dr. Joseph E. Smadel, Army Medical Services Graduate School, Walter Reed Army Center, Washington; Dr. Colin MacLeod, Bellevue Medical Center, New York; Dr. Frank L. Hors-

Jr., Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, and Horace L. Hodes, pediatrician in chief, Mount Sinai Hospital, New York.

After this vote, the panel gave unanimous backing to the view by Dr. Sabin that "attenuated" (weakened) strains of polio virus should be substituted as soon as practical for the more virulent strain now used in making the vaccine.

There were many qualifications imposed by the medical experts in their poll, including several statements that such a poll cannot be considered too strongly since it represents only a small cross-section of medical experts.

Several of the doctors said they would favor using an attenuated virus only if the vaccine proved as potent in producing protection against polio as does the present vaccine.

Sabin said "the decision is not an easy one," but he feels the program should not be continued "because of the uncertainty."

It is a "very difficult moral issue," Sabin said to ask parents of children to agree to submit to polio inoculations this year when they may not get polio anyway.

He said the chances of contracting polio over a lifetime range from one in 100 to as high as one in 30,000, and declared: "I cannot ask anyone to come forward and take the chance of getting polio which they might not get anyway."

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23 Schomaker said he was unemployed except for occasional Yesterday he testified he and longshoreman B. B. Jones persuaded Bridges to sign a membership application. Schomaker did not see the actual signing, but Jones showed him the application with Bridges's name on one side and the name Harry Dorgan on the other. It had been agreed Bridges would use his mother's maiden name as a party member.

Schomaker gave the same testimony five years ago when Bridges was convicted of criminal perjury. Jones, a defense witness at that trial, denied it. That conviction was thrown out by the United States Supreme Court, which invoked the statute of limitations. The statute does not apply to this civil case, says he, said, because he left the table—but Jones showed him the application with Bridges's name on one side and the name Harry Dorgan on the other. It had tended a party meeting and Sam Darcy, the party's California state chairman, gave him a special welcome.

He quoted Bridges as once making a speech openly to maritime workers about how much

173 AUSTRIANS RELEASED
BY REDS TO ARRIVE IN VIENNA

VIENNA, June 23 (AP)—An official announcement yesterday said 173 Austrians released from Soviet slave labor camps will arrive in Vienna this weekend.

Among the released are 47 women, including Dr. Margarete Ottlinger, a high Austrian government official, who was arrested by the Russians in 1948 at a Soviet zone check point.

HOTEL ANTI-RACIAL
VOTE PLAN ASSAILEDHuman Relations Official Says Amendment Nullifies Principle of Bill.

An amendment calling for a popular vote on a bill to prohibit racial discrimination in places of public accommodation was criticized today by Adolph K. Schwartz, chairman of the legislative committee of the St. Louis Council on Human Relations.

The aldermanic legislation committee recommended passage of the bill Tuesday, but added the amendment, which would delay its effectiveness until it is approved by voters at a regular election.

Schwartz, in a letter to Donald Gunn, president of the Board of Aldermen, said the amendment had the effect of "nullifying the principle and killing the bill."

The measure would prohibit discrimination in hotels, restaurants, theaters and other public places. It is scheduled for board action tomorrow.

In urging passage of the bill without amendment, Schwartz wrote:

"It emphasizes education, persuasion and conciliation. It is in no sense a harsh or severe law."

We have been assured by many owners of places of public accommodation that they welcome the passage of this bill because they believe in its principles.

The elimination of discrimination as provided in Bill No. 93 is properly a part of the legislation duty of the Board of Aldermen. We do not believe that they want to shirk this responsibility through a crippling amendment."

Thai Premier Home From Tour.
BANGKOK, June 23 (UPI)—Thai Premier Pibul Songram returned from a world tour last night. He said "every country I visited wants peace and is trying its best to prevent war."JET NOISES TRIM
POULTRY PROFITS TO GOOSE EGGS

The next time a jet plane rattles your china or disturbs your sleep, you can be grateful you're not a goose. Geese have long been known for their temperament—but the thing which disturbs them most of all, reported Ed Schwiegert of Alton today, is the roar of a jet.

Schwiegert came back from a fishing trip at Bathtub, Ill., in Calhoun county, with this story about his Bathtub friend, Heine Klockenkemper, who raises geese. This project was interrupted recently by zooming jets.

When they roar through the sound barrier near Bathtub, the resulting tremors prevents the goose eggs from hatching, Schwiegert said. Klockenkemper's jet-shy geese lay eggs which he sourly describes as "addled."

MAN ADMITS PART IN FATAL BEATING, NAMES COMPANION

A man who admitted participation in the fatal street beating early last Saturday of Lee Bunch, of Imperial, Mo., and who has named another assailant, was in police custody today.

Will Blakely, a Negro, 19 years old, 5200 block of Enright Avenue, admitted, police said, assisting a companion in beating and robbing Bunch in the 5100 block of Enright avenue after drinking with him in a tavern. The other man denies participation in the assault. A third prisoner, also a Negro, identified the other two as the assailants.

Bunch, who was 34 years old, died at City Hospital without regaining consciousness.

Struck by Lightning, Unhurt.

ANDOVER, Mass., June 23 (AP)—Thai Premier Pibul Songram was knocked 30 feet by lightning yesterday—and he suffered no injuries. Cormey, 23 years old, a telephone company workman, had just emerged from a street manhole when he was struck.

MERGER OF 2 CHURCH GROUPS AGREED ON

Evangelical-Reformed and Congregational Membership Is 2,000,000.

COLUMBUS, O., June 23 (UPI) -- The merger of the Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Congregational Christian Church was announced here yesterday following a three-day meeting of both groups. The two churches have a combined membership of more than 2,000,000.

The union—which had been discussed since 1942—will be effective June 25, 1957, church leaders said. The new combined church will be called the United Church of Christ.

Church leaders estimated the new church would be ranked eighth or ninth in size among Protestant sects.

Evangelical and Reformed Church membership numbers

761,325 and has 2735 churches in the United States. The Congregationalists have 1,283,754 members and 5573 churches. All figures are for 1954 as listed by the year book of American churches.

The merger will be accomplished in several steps. Studies and discussions will be held this year and next on the basis of union and interpretations.

Church members from each sect will exchange visits. Also, during 1956-57, the constitution for the new church will be drafted.

The agreement to unify both churches was reached in 1948.

A suit filed by a Brooklyn

Judge Robert G. Dowd. He also was fined $25 for careless driving.

Henry was arrested May 27 after he struck a parked automobile at 4000 Oleatha avenue, and drove on. He did not testify.

Oliver Jones, a Negro, 5246

Lots avenue, was fined $100 by Police Judge Morris Rosenthal when he pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of driving when intoxicated. His machine collided with another automobile at Kingshighway and Cote Brilliante avenue June 11.

Cuban Applauded at U.N. Session As He Calls Russia Aggressor

Violates Parley's Rules but Continues Talk
Despite Reprimand by Presiding Officer.

By MARGARET PARTON
The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch
Special Dispatch.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23—Hidden tensions underlying the anniversary meeting of the United Nations erupted here yesterday in a political explosion which rocked the rafters of the San Francisco Opera House with applause.

Violating the rules of the session which bar speeches specifically attacking any other nation, Dr. Emil Nunez, Portuondo, Cuban ambassador to the United States, branded Russia as an aggressor nation and charged that it had enslaved the peoples of eastern Europe.

Sterlingly reprimanded by presiding officer Eelco Van Kleffens, of The Netherlands, Portuondo turned back to his speech.

Van Kleffens angrily reminded the chair that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov had made a political speech earlier in the day, in which the Russian had referred to specific nations and groups of nations.

Championed by Portuondo. In the exchange, Portuondo was warmly championed by Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, of the Philippines, who sprang to a front aisle to defend the Cuban's right to speak as he wished. Their remarks during the argument were wildly applauded by most of the 3,000 members of the audience, while Van Kleffens' remarks were punctuated by applause from the delegates of the Soviet satellite nations.

After the little Cuban had listed the nations which the Soviet veto has barred from membership in the U.N., he discussed the nations which have attained independence and freedom in the West and in Asia, largely due to the actions of the Western powers.

"In the meanwhile, what has the other great power been doing?" he asked. "Let us consider the other side of the balance sheet. It has occupied and enslaved Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia, against all right and reason, unless might is right."

At this point Van Kleffens

continued through his next sentence: "Against their peoples' will and with the assistance of resolute minorities well-trained for the purpose, it has subjected to its rule many states."

Van Kleffens admonished: "Kindly refrain from passing judgments on the acts of any individual member states."

There was a moment of silence while Portuondo looked bewildered. Suddenly Romulo was out of his seat.

"Mr. Chairman," Romulo called, "yesterday you stopped the delegate of Syria who took up only colonialism, but today you let the Soviet delegate speak."

"I would like to make it quite clear," said Van Kleffens, "that Mr. Molotov did not direct remarks against any individual state. He made a general survey of each area."

Philippine Protest. Romulo replied: "The Philippine delegation protests!"

Applause from the audience, which evidently felt that Van Kleffens had been unfair in allowing Molotov to make his speech and attempting to silence Portuondo, erupted in a tremendous wave.

When it died down, the imperturbable president continued: "This is not the place for such debate and criticism. It is out of order."

Portuondo turned back to his speech.

"Russia tried to do the same to South Korea," he continued, exactly as if he had never been interrupted, "as it had already done to North Korea, and also to seize a province in Iran, although in the last two cases, courage to the resolution, courage to the United Nations, the attempt failed. To sum up:

Maybe an allergy is the cause of your trouble. Headaches, muscular pains, skin eruptions, even heart trouble, stuttering and ulcers are being traced to allergic conditions. People with formerly untreatable problems are finding that allergy is the cause of their trouble. Read this significant report on allergies in July's Better Homes & Gardens. Is "allergy" the cause of your trouble?

these enslaved people should be raised here by someone."

"But," said Dr. Portuondo with a shrug, "I shall bow to the ruling of the chair. I shall go on to what we may call the more palatable part of my speech."

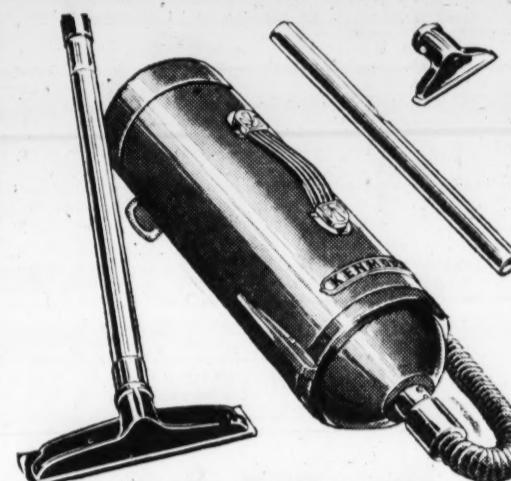

Laughter and applause broke the tension. The latter part of Portuondo's speech seemed somewhat more palatable to Van Kleffens, although it continued lambast the Russians.

CONGRESS OK'S 7 1/2 PCT. PAY RISE FOR U.S. WORKERS

Leaders of Both Houses
Say They Are Certain
President Will Sign Measure.

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—The Senate and then the House today passed a compromise bill increasing pay of 1,073,262 federal employees 7 1/2 per cent, retroactive to March 1. The measure was passed by voice vote in both chambers without opposition and sent to President Eisenhower.

Congressional leaders in both branches say they are certain he will sign the bill.

The increases, which total about $239,000,000 annually, go to 983,057 classified civil service employees throughout the country and 90,205 related workers.

The Government's payroll for covered employees, before the new rise, was $4,350,000,000 a year. The new salary scales range from $2690 to $14,800 in the general civil service schedule.

The average 8 per cent increase recently granted 500,000 postal workers added $165,000 to that department's $2,000,000,000 field service payroll.

Postponement on Hell's Canyon.

The Senate Interior Committee postponed a vote on legislation to authorize construction of a federal dam in the Snake river's Hell's canyon between Idaho and Oregon, where three private power dams have been proposed.

The committee discussed the controversial bill for two hours then decided to postpone action until after its chairman, Senator James Murray (Dem.), returns from Europe. Senator Clinton Anderson (Dem.), New Mexico, acting chairman, told reporters Murray is expected to return about July 1.

Anderson said some committee members questioned whether a vote now would be premature because "we don't know what the Federal Power Commission will do" in connection with Idaho Power Co. applications to construct three dams in the Hell's canyon area.

Final committee action will determine whether the bill has a chance to get through Congress before the FPC rules on Idaho Power's application for dams which would flood the federal site.

A House Judiciary subcommittee approved a bill yesterday to permit federal law-enforcement agencies to resort to wiretapping under limited conditions to obtain evidence for prosecution in kidnapping and national security cases. Wiretapping could be used only when the Attorney General obtains permission from a United States district court on a showing of necessity to prosecute or prevent crime.

TV and Radio Licenses.

Congress received legislation yesterday which its sponsors say is designed to prevent the Federal Communications Commission from discriminating against newspaper owners in awarding television and radio station licenses.

Representative John V. Beamer (Rep.), Indiana, and Harris offered identical bills.

The legislation provides that the FCC "shall not make or promulgate any rule or regulation . . . the purpose or result of which is to effect discrimination between persons based upon interest in, association with, or ownership of any medium primarily engaged in dissemination of information . . ."

The bills also provide that no application for a construction permit or station license, or for the renewal, modification or transfer of such permit or license shall be denied by the commission solely because of any such interests, associations or ownership."

Natural Gas Bill.

Speaker Sam Rayburn (Dem.), Texas, yesterday challenged President Eisenhower to throw his public support to a bill to remove natural gas producers from federal price control if he expects Congress to pass it.

Rayburn, who announced his support to the measure for the first time, said, "I think it is going to take the endorsement and power of the Administration to get the bill passed. Of course, that means the President of the United States also."

A presidential committee and the Federal Power Commission have recommended that natural gas producers be removed from the jurisdiction of the FPC. The House Commerce Committee has approved such a bill. But Mr. Eisenhower has taken no personal stand on the issue yet.

Opposes Federal Control.

Rayburn said continued federal control would mean "less and less gas, which in my opinion will bring about increased prices to the consumer."

"Passage of the bill," he told reporters, "will bring more and more gas into production, and with more production prices are more likely to go down than up."

There is considerable opposition to Rayburn's theory. Some big city mayors believe that prices will skyrocket if natural gas producers are removed from federal control.

The Supreme Court has ruled that the FPC does have jurisdiction over well-head prices of natural gas. The decontrol bill is sponsored by Representative Oren Harris (Dem.), Arkansas.

Rayburn supported also a Harris resolution which would call for a congressional investigation of the transmission and distribution of natural gas. He said he knows of a case where consumers are paying $3 for gas that costs 70 cents on the outskirts of the town.

Security Program Inquiry.

The House Judiciary Committee approved a bill today to authorize appointment of a bipartisan, 12-member commission to investigate the Administration's security program. The legislation, adopted by a subcommittee yesterday, is similar to a measure approved by the Senate Government Operations Committee.

The House measure, sponsored by Representative Francis E. Walter (Dem.), Pennsylvania, would require six of the commission members to be Democrats and six Republicans. The commission would be required to report back to Congress by Dec. 31.

The Senate bill sponsored by Senator Hubert H. Humphrey (Dem.), Minnesota, would allow the commission, armed with subpoena powers, to make a full inquiry into the Government's security-risk program and report to Congress at the end of next year—after the 1956 presidential election.

The House approved a simplified customs procedure yesterday after beating down a move to eliminate a provision that would lower tariff duties for some foreign products.

The House rejected the move to knock out the controversial provision by a 232-to-143 vote. The provision would simplify the system of fixing the value of products when a percentage of the value is used in figuring tariff duties.

These items comprise about 13 per cent of total imports and about one fourth of the imports of the value of the products.

LONDON, June 23 (UPI)—Princess Margaret paid a rare royal tribute last night to Britain's most famous comedians, the "Crazy Gang." She went to their party.

A last-minute telegram invited Margaret to the celebration following the 10,000th performance by the veteran five-man slapstick comedy troupe. They have been a top hit with British audiences since their first performance 23 years ago.

The Princess already had a date with Billy Wallace, a frequent escort. They hurried from another theater to attend the comedians' party.

More money will be needed also for hiring new employees, mostly teachers, to take care of a rise of 1200 in enrollment, bringing the total to more than 94,000, and to provide some special instruction programs, the superintendent explained.

Mervyn E. Wiethaupt, secretary-treasurer of the board, estimated that income in the coming fiscal year will be $26,234,000. The cash balance estimated for June 30 is $4,875,000. Wiethaupt said a balance of $2,500,000 at the end of each year is necessary for efficient operation.

Hickey said plans call for reducing the average size of elementary school classes from 38 to 37, and for special programs for slower students in high schools. Also, special instruction is to be provided for brighter pupils in the sixth grade, and later this is to be extended to the seventh and eighth grades.

Another need for additional staff will arise with the opening of three new elementary schools.

The proposed budget included departmental allocations as follows: Instruction, $20,505,872; Finance, $1,632,489; building, $4,980,488; auditing, $151,148; and law, $13,450.

CHARGE OF U.S. SUPPRESSING NEWS UP FOR HOUSE INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—Chairman William L. Dawson (Dem.), Illinois, said today the House Government Operations Committee would investigate accusations that Government agencies are withholding and suppressing information.

Dawson said a special three-man subcommittee, headed by Representative Moss (Dem.), California, would be set up to do the job.

Moss said subcommittee investigations already had talked to representatives of newspapers and other groups about the availability of information from Government sources. Public hearings are not expected at this session of Congress, however, he added.

Dawson did not disclose who had complained about Government handling of information. Some public criticism has been directed in particular at the Pentagon's dissemination of news under Secretary of Defense Wilson.

A budget calling for expenditure beginning July 1 was presented to the Board of Education this afternoon by Philip J. Hickey, superintendent of instruction.

The figure is $2,150,060 more than estimated spending for the year ending June 30. Hickey explained that most of the increase would go for salary boosts. Salaries account for 84 per cent of the budget.

More money will be needed also for hiring new employees, mostly teachers, to take care of a rise of 1200 in enrollment, bringing the total to more than 94,000, and to provide some special instruction programs, the superintendent explained.

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—Chairman William L. Dawson (Dem.), Illinois, said today the House Government Operations Committee would investigate accusations that Government agencies are withholding and suppressing information.

Dawson said a special three-man subcommittee, headed by Representative Moss (Dem.), California, would be set up to do the job.

Moss said subcommittee investigations already had talked to representatives of newspapers and other groups about the availability of information from Government sources. Public hearings are not expected at this session of Congress, however, he added.

Dawson did not disclose who had complained about Government handling of information. Some public criticism has been directed in particular at the Pentagon's dissemination of news under Secretary of Defense Wilson.

BOMBING ATTACKS CONTINUE AGAINST BRITISH ON CYPRUS

NICOSIA, Cyprus, June 23 (AP)—Bomb attacks by terrorists seeking union of this British-ruled island with Greece blasted Cyprus towns last night for the third straight night. One Englishman was slightly injured. Sticks of dynamite were thrown onto the gardens of three British officials and into the British-owned Carlton Hotel here. A bomb exploded in a Limassol street shortly after two truckloads of troops drove past the spot.

LONDON, June 23 (UPI)—Princess Margaret paid a rare royal tribute last night to Britain's most famous comedians, the "Crazy Gang." She went to their party.

A last-minute telegram invited Margaret to the celebration following the 10,000th performance by the veteran five-man slapstick comedy troupe. They have been a top hit with British audiences since their first performance 23 years ago.

The Princess already had a date with Billy Wallace, a frequent escort. They hurried from another theater to attend the comedians' party.

For Fiscal Year Starting

July 1 — $2,150,060

Higher Than 1954-55

Outlay.

A budget calling for expenditure

beginning July 1 was presented to the Board of Education this afternoon by Philip J. Hickey, superintendent of instruction.

The figure is $2,150,060 more than estimated spending for the year ending June 30. Hickey explained that most of the increase would go for salary boosts. Salaries account for 84 per cent of the budget.

More money will be needed also for hiring new employees, mostly teachers, to take care of a rise of 1200 in enrollment, bringing the total to more than 94,000, and to provide some special instruction programs, the superintendent explained.

Mervyn E. Wiethaupt, secretary-treasurer of the board, estimated that income in the coming fiscal year will be $26,234,000. The cash balance estimated for June 30 is $4,875,000. Wiethaupt said a balance of $2,500,000 at the end of each year is necessary for efficient operation.

SENATE BURIES McCarthy Move ON PARLEY, 77-4

Only Jenner, Langer, Malone Support His Proposal on Big 4 Geneva Conference.

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—The Senate buried under a 77-4 vote yesterday an effort by Senator McCarthy (Rep.), Wisconsin, to force Big Four discussion of Russia's satellite states.

Senator Barkley (Dem.), Kentucky, said today "that settles it—the President does not need our advice" in forthcoming negotiations with the Prime Ministers of England, France and the Soviet Union at Geneva in July.

McCarthy, his political support in the Senate obviously at a low ebb, told reporters refection of his resolution was "a great mistake."

He promised to go right on talking about "getting some concessions" from the Russians at the summit conference, but he indicated no move for any other Senate test.

His resolution had the combined opposition of the Eisenhower Administration and of Senate leaders of both parties.

Senator Fulbright (Dem.), Arkansas, bitterly attacked by McCarthy in the stormy debate, said he viewed yesterday's action as "a further confirmation of the vote to condemn Senator McCarthy last December."

His Last Four Votes.

Recalling that the Senate had voted 67-22 then to condemn some of McCarthy's actions, Fulbright said McCarthy yesterday was "down to his last four votes."

Those who voted with McCarthy were Republican Senators Jenner of Indiana, Langer of North Dakota, and Malone of New Mexico.

Seven other Senators not present for the roll call announced they would have voted against the resolution. Among the remaining eight Senators whose position was not recorded or announced was Senator Dirksen (Rep.), Illinois.

Senator Douglas (Dem.), Illinois and Missouri's two Democratic Senators, Hennings and Symington, voted against the resolution.

Despite attempts by McCarthy to withdraw or amend his resolution, and a last-minute effort by Jenner to substitute a mild version for it, Democrats forced a rollcall on the Wisconsin Senator's original proposal.

It would have asked President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to obtain a pre-conference commitment from the Russians that they would discuss the status of their satellite states. Lacking such a pledge, the resolution would have put the Senate on record as opposing the conference.

The three Senators who voted with McCarthy for this resolution opposed the move to condemn his acts last December. But 15 G.O.P. Senators who were on his side then lined up against him yesterday.

In a session that at times veered toward the rowdy, McCarthy clashed bitterly with some who had been his political friends as well as Democratic critics.

He told Senator Knowland of California, the Senate G.O.P. leader, he was "surprised, shocked and disappointed" at Knowland's opposition to the resolution.

When McCarthy went on to assert that the Democratic record was one of "whining and whimpering" over the Communist question, Knowland fired back heatedly that he was not "whining and whimpering."

When Senator Caphart (Rep.), Indiana, undertook to question him, McCarthy several times told the Indiana Senator to "be quiet while I answer your question."

"There are some of us here who have the courage to be with you when you are right but in this instance you are wrong," Caphart fired back.

Senator Hickenlooper (Rep.), Iowa, took McCarthy to task for saying that "Democratic members would vote for appeasement, so far as Communism is concerned."

The theme of those who opposed the McCarthy resolution was—in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee expressed it—that its passage would "have the effect of expressing a lack of confidence in the President at a critical juncture in world history."

McCarthy replied that the 1952 G.O.P. platform pledged efforts to free the "captive peoples" behind the Iron Curtain. He said any Republican who didn't vote for his resolution would be a "disgrace to his party."

McCarthy said that he didn't want to "lie the hands" of the President and gave that as his reason for offering an amendment merely to put the Senate on record as expressing "sympathy with the ultimate humanitarian objectives" of liberating enslaved peoples.

It was shouted down, as was a proposal by Jenner to express "full support of any and all efforts of the President, at any meeting or conference with other nations, to confirm the deep interest of the American people in the present and future status of the nations of eastern Europe and Asia now under Communist control."

It was Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas who engineered the vote and its implied rebuke to McCarthy. He called on Senators to "fearlessly stand up and vote down" a measure he said attempted to dictate to President Eisenhower, put him in a strait-jacket and place "a congressional gag around his neck."

BRITON, CAPTURED IN TIBET, RETURNS AFTER FIVE YEARS

LONDON, June 22 (AP)—Robert Ford, a young Englishman imprisoned by the Chinese Communists when they annexed Tibet five years ago, came home to Britain last night.

Ford, now 32 years old, had been employed as a radio operator in Tibet when he was caught in the Communist takeover. Since then, he told reporters at London airport, it had been "just a series of cross-examinations combined with attempts to win me over."

What they wanted, he said, was "to get me to become what they call 'a new man.' He was released last month, he said, because they thought the education had gone on for long enough and they thought that I thought in their way."

But he didn't, Ford said.

WESTERN EUROPEAN UNION SESSION TO OPEN JULY 5

STRASBOURG, France, June 23 (AP)—The inaugural session of the joint assembly of the Western European Union will get under way July 5, it was announced yesterday.

This is the parliamentary branch of the new seven-nation organization linking France, West Germany, Britain, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg for common defense.

Legislators from the seven countries compose the assembly.

MODEL SCHEDULED TO DIE JULY 13 FOR KILLING LOVER

LONDON, June 23 (AP)—Ruth Ellis was told today she is scheduled to be hanged July 13 for murdering her playboy lover.

The 28-year-old model's lawyer said yesterday she would not appeal from the death sentence given her Tuesday at the conclusion of her two-day trial. She still has nine more days to change her mind, however.

The jury of 10 men and two women who convicted Mrs. Ellis, a divorcee and mother of two young children, did not recommend mercy. But all capital cases must be reviewed by the home secretary, who can recommend that Queen Elizabeth II grant a reprieve. Mrs. Ellis admitted shooting 25-year-old David Blakely on Easter Sunday.

LOUISIANA TO SELL
TIDELANDS LEASES

State to Defy U.S. Plan to Offer Rights to Same Tracts on Same Date.

BATON ROUGE, La., June 23 (UPI)—The State of Louisiana said yesterday it would sell 70,000 acres of "Tidelands" oil and gas leases July 12 in defiance of federal plans to market lease rights on the same tracts on the same date.

The State Mineral Board's announcement was the latest blast in a running battle with the Government over the fabulously rich offshore lands along Louisiana and Texas.

Louisiana has claimed underwater rights extending three leagues—about 10 miles out—in the Gulf of Mexico but the Government asked the United States Supreme Court to set the limit at three miles. The state has until Sept. 1 to file an answer to the federal brief.

The Mineral Board said it would accept lease bids on 29 tracts lying between the three-mile and the three-league limit, mostly off the state's western gulf shore, July 12. The Department of the Interior announced last month it would take bids on the same date on some 600,000 acres in the Gulf, more than two-thirds of it off Louisiana.

The board, acting under instructions from Gov. Robert F. Kennon, said the Government threatened "the sovereignty of the State of Louisiana and its proprietary rights" by the planned sale.

If leases are awarded, such action would deprive the state and its people of property in violation of the Fifth amendment to the Constitution.

Louisiana has gained some $100,000,000 in bonuses, rentals and royalties from oil and gas production in the tidelands with the latest sale last May 15 bringing in a record $21,500,000.

The Government has netted some $142,000,000 from sales held last Oct. 13 and Nov. 9 by the Bureau of Land Management.

Estimates have placed the value of submerged wealth on the continental shelf at 100 billion dollars.

How you can keep white nylon from turning gray or yellow!

(and get old nylon white again, too!)

Got any old slips in your bureau drawer, too dingy to wear but too good to throw away? Then here's good news. You can rewhiten yellowed, dingy nylon with new Surf.

Got any new nylon things you're hoping to wear a long, long time? Take heart. You can do that thing—they come through white and bright as new when you wash them in new Surf.

Scientists find a new whitener
Yes, something new has been added to Surf. The scientists have developed an ultraviolet whitener. It puts powerful ultraviolet rays (like those in sunshine) to work for you. This is not a bleach. It is not a bluing. It is not something you pay extra for. But it really rewhitens your old nylon things and keeps new nylon looking new.

Is it safe for everything?

Absolutely! You won't find a detergent on the market that will get all your wash—cotton, rayon, new and old miracle fabrics—as white and clean as Surf. It's for everything you wash, from lingerie to dungarees. And it's mild to your hands, too!

This is our promise

It comes from one of America's oldest, most trusted makers of soaps and detergents. We promise that when you wash your new white nylon slips, blouses and other things in Surf, they'll stay as white as the day you bought them. And if you'll wash your old, yellowed nylon things with new Surf, you'll see them getting whiter and whiter. After several washes you'll enjoy wearing them again.

Here's your guarantee

Look for Surf next time you're at the store. (It's in the same sky-blue and sunshine-yellow box as always.) Buy it and try it for all your wash. Then, if you don't find it beats any other detergent for getting everything white and clean, we'll return every penny you paid. No ifs, ands or buts. Better put new Surf on your shopping list right now!

5 CHINESE RED SHIPS REPORTED HIT IN AIR RAIDS

TAIPEI, Formosa, June 23 (AP)—Nationalist Air Force Headquarters said its patrol planes damaged five Chinese Communist vessels in the waters off the Red mainland coast yesterday.

The air force said a Red gunboat of about 60 tons was strafed and damaged at the mouth of the Min river, west of the Mat-su islands. It said earlier that two motorized junks were set afire and two wooden boats damaged southwest of Quemoy island.

Meanwhile, Peiping radio said the Communists have completed, six months ahead of schedule, a 105-mile railway in southwest China that is "expected to prove valuable for strengthening the national defense and the liberation of Taiwan (Formosa)" headquarters island of the Chinese Nationalists.

WELSH ASSAIS PLAN FOR G.O.P. PATRONAGE UNIT

Says Proposal Is Device to Give Compton, Mattingly Control Over U.S. Jobs.

Letters urging defeat of a proposal to set up a special seven-man Republican patronage committee in Missouri have been mailed to G.O.P. county chairman and state committee members by A. D. (Bud) Welsh of Ladue, Republican national committeeman for Missouri, it was learned today.

The letters denounced the proposal as a device to permit State G.O.P. Chairman Perry Compton of Montgomery City and Barak T. Mattingly, St. Louis party leader, to take over control of all federal patronage in Missouri.

A resolution authorizing the establishment of the new patronage group, which has the backing of Mattingly-Compton forces in the state, is to be submitted to the Republican State Committee for adoption at the special meeting of the committee at Columbia on Sunday.

Vigorous Fight Expected.

The resolution is expected to be vigorously opposed by the Welsh supporters, who charge it is designed to deprive Welsh and Mrs. Estelle Tanner of Jefferson City, the national committeewoman of all their patronage powers.

The Welsh letter, which adds new fuel to the bitter intra-party battle between factions headed by Welsh and Mrs. Tanner on one side and by Mattingly and Compton on the other, charged that approval of the resolution would mean that local Republican committees also would be by-passed on federal patronage letters.

Welsh served notice in the letter that he and Mrs. Tanner would ignore the resolution if it is approved at the state committee meeting Sunday.

"You can rest assured," the national committeeman declared, "that Mrs. Tanner and I will continue to handle federal patronage in Missouri in full cooperation with the elected county committees, notwithstanding the adoption of any illegal patronage resolution."

Welsh contended approval of the resolution would be "detrimental to the best interest of the party" and he urged the county chairman to inform state committee members in their districts of their opposition.

A careful examination of this resolution, Welsh said, "indicates it would be used by the State Chairman and Mattingly as a device to grab for themselves and a special committee all the patronage powers of the duly elected county chairmen, vice chairmen and their committees. This possibility must be eliminated."

Under the proposed new patronage plan, the special seven-man committee would be empowered to pass recommendations for federal appointments whenever Welsh, Mrs. Tanner and Compton were unable to agree on who should get the job.

Welsh declared that Compton could throw all patronage matters into the hands of the special committee by objecting to all recommendations approved by Welsh and Mrs. Tanner.

He also contended that the special patronage committee would not be required to obtain the endorsement of the local party groups on handling federal patronage.

Members of the special patronage committee would include: Roscoe C. Hobbs of St. Louis, chairman of the Republican state finance committee; William G. Moore Jr. of St. Louis, treasurer of the state committee; Miss Anne Richards of Brookfield, vice chairman of the state committee; Miss Harriet Combs of Kansas City, committee secretary; Compton, Welsh and Mrs. Tanner. Welsh pointed out that he and Mrs. Tanner would be outvoted on this group.

QUINTUPLETES REPORTED BORN IN RHODESIA, ONE DIES

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia, June 23 (UPI) — Medical attendants at the Salisbury maternity home said today that quintuplets were born yesterday to Judith Tandzeni, a native woman of Mtoko, Rhodesia.

One of the five children, the hospital said, died on the 100-mile journey by road from Mtoko to Salisbury. The mother and the four remaining infants were admitted to the hospital today and the hospital matron reported their condition "is fair."

The surviving children are two boys and two girls, three of whom weighed 3 pounds each and one just over 2 pounds. The quint who died was a girl and the smallest of the five.

SUSPECT, WOUNDED WHEN LEAPING AT OFFICER, DIES

Ollie Roper, of the 3800 block of Washington boulevard, who was shot in the head by a policeman early Tuesday, died last night at Homer G. Phillips Hospital.

Patrolman George Pate, one of two officers investigating a report of an attempted burglary at the Weeping Willow Bar, 3943 Delmar boulevard, said Roper was on a ladder trying to force a ventilator open. When Pate demanded that he come down, Roper, a Negro, leaped at him and the patrolman fired, he said.

A companion who had been steadyng the ladder had fled but stopped when a shot was fired in the air.

NEW YORK, June 23 (AP) — George R. Hearst's 4th wife wins separation, alimony

MAN LET OUT OF JAIL WAS ON FBI 'MOST WANTED' LIST

SEOUL, June 23 (UP) — George R. Hearst's 4th wife, Sandra Rambeau Hearst, has obtained a separation and alimony from the publishing executive after a state supreme court justice ruled a Mexican annulment of the marriage was not valid. Hearst currently is married to his fifth wife, actress Collette Lyons.

Hearst and Sandra Rambeau, 46 years old, were married in Mexico March 12, 1951, four hours after he obtained a Mexican divorce from his third wife, Justice James B. McNally ruled yesterday that a Mexican annulment of the marriage—on Oct. 4, 1951—was not valid because the fourth Mrs. Hearst was not given sufficient advance notice of the hearing.

The court awarded Mrs. Hearst $500 a month permanent alimony.

The sources said Capt. Lee disclosed that Wang Yun, former head of the North Korean air force, was demoted and replaced by Lt. Gen. Han Il Moo, a citizen of Russia.

Questioning of the two defectors revealed that Lee's companion, Lt. Lee Eun Sung, pulled a pistol on the captain in the cockpit of the plane and told him to turn back to North Korea but the captain convinced his fellow pilot that he was not flying back to Communist North Korea and that the plane would crash if he was shot.

O'CONNOR AGAIN EXPRESSES FAITH IN SALK VACCINE

He Urges 'Getting on With Job' — Testimony by Dr. Sabin Is 'Old Stuff,' He Says.

Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, reaffirmed his confidence in the Salk polio vaccine here today and urged that responsible officials "get on with the job the American people want done."

O'Connor described as "old stuff" the testimony given before a United States House of Representatives subcommittee yesterday by Dr. Albert Sabin, of the Children's Hospital Research Foundation at Cincinnati.

Dr. Sabin recommended to a House Commerce subcommittee that inoculations be suspended and the manufacture of Salk vaccine discontinued until as he expressed it, a less dangerous preparation could be perfected.

Effort To Halt Tests Charged. Dr. Sabin's efforts to address the American Physical Therapy Association at Hotel Jefferson last night, O'Connor issued a statement in which he charged that Dr. Sabin had tried to stop field trials of the Salk vaccine.

"For years Sabin has been trying to get what is called a 'live virus' polio vaccine," O'Connor declared. "Salk's vaccine is one using a 'killed' virus. There are no present prospects of Sabin getting a safe 'live virus' vaccine for years. The National Foundation has supported Sabin's work to the tune of $833,314 and will continue to support him financially."

Asserts Vaccine is Safe.

O'Connor said the Salk vaccine was safe and effective and would protect children from infantile paralysis to the extent of 60 to 90 per cent. He urged that the vaccine not be "talked to death."

All that's being accomplished in Washington now," O'Connor said, "is the revival of old ghosts, such as the Mahoney strain of virus, provocation, live virus in the vaccine, RH factor—all of which had to be laid to rest and were definitely disposed of before the National Foundation started the 1954 field trials with the affirmative approval and indorsement of the United States Public Health Service."

Cites Difficulty in Program.

O'Connor told reporters that the "chief difficulty" in the entire inoculation program has come from persons, including some at high levels, who were not fully informed on all the problems solved in research and field trials conducted in developing the Salk vaccine.

He described as "unadulterated nonsense" objections that the program had been rushed with disregard for proper safeguards.

2 BURGLARS FLEE THROUGH WINDOW WITHOUT ANY LOOT

ADVENTIST SAYS RELIGION IS CHANGING SOVIET VIEWS

Two burglars were seen jumping out of a broken window of Ben J. Selkirk & Sons, auctioneers, 4160 Olive street, early today, shortly before police arrived.

Officers found that they had taken nothing, and had left an assortment of burglary equipment, including a loaded revolver, two sledge hammers, five chisels and two flashlights. They had entered by breaking another window at the rear.

Police were called at 3:25 a.m. by someone who had seen activity there, and a witness told of seeing the men hurry away on foot at the council table.

Police said they were "indicting their own brothers." This program has been entirely in the hands of persons from the medical and scientific field."

The foundation president indicated he felt that federal authorities should devote more effort to checking manufactured vaccine to speed its release for public use, when found safe.

He announced a $74,530 grant to the American Physical Therapy Association to help recruit, train and advise members of the profession. The association is holding its annual convention here this week.

Testimony before the House subcommittee brought out objections to the Salk vaccine from several other physicians, in addition to Dr. Sabin, among the 15 outstanding men in the field who had been asked to give their views.

O'Connor last night accepted a citation of the American Physical Therapy Association for "leadership and vision" in connection with development of the Salk vaccine.

The St. Louis-St. Louis county chapter yesterday reported the sixth polio case of the year in the city-county area. The chapter listed the victim as Randolph, 1-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Scott, Negroes, 2835 Delmar boulevard, who was stricken last month. Report of the case was delayed because the boy was not hospitalized.

There had been eight cases last year at this time.

LYNWOOD, Calif., June 23 (AP)—A resurgence of spiritual activity in eastern European countries is contributing to Russia's "new look" in political policy, a Seventh-Day Adventist leader believes.

W. R. Beach of Washington, D. C., secretary of the general conference of Seventh-Day Adventists, told the Adventists' fifty-third annual camp meeting last night that "we must not underestimate the spiritual factors in Russia's new policies toward those with whom she sits at the council table."

Beach, who served for 28 years as president of the southern European division of the church, told the meeting: "God's mighty power is changing hearts and lives in Russia and eastern European countries the same as it is in our own country."

William McCalpin has been elected the first president of the alumni association of the College of Arts and Sciences of St. Louis University, the Rev. James J. Meara, S.J., moderator of the new organization, announced today.

McCalpin, an attorney here, was graduated from the college in 1943. He holds a law degree from Harvard University.

Other officers are: Marvin Schatzman, first vice president; Mrs. Josephine M. Fagan, second vice president; Thomas F. Colfer, third vice president; Don A. Livingston, financial secretary; Mrs. Patricia Dempsey, recording secretary, and John B. Riordan, corresponding secretary. Also elected was a 21-member board of directors for the association.

BRITISH CRIME REDUCTION.

LONDON, June 23 (UPI)—Serious crimes in Britain dropped 8.2 per cent last year, according to provisional figures announced today. Home Secretary Gwynn Lloyd-George told the House of Commons that there were 434,327 indictable offenses last year compared with 472,000 in 1953.

WILEY PREDICTS IMPASTATO BILL WILL BE KILLED

Discloses Letter From Narcotics Bureau
Chief on Record of Gangster.

By EDWARD F. WOODS
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, June 23—A bill in the Senate Judiciary Committee to grant permanent residence to Nicolo Impastato, Kansas City gangster, will be killed, Senator Alexander Wiley, Rep., Wisconsin predicted today.

Impastato faces deportation if the bill is not passed.

Wiley said he had no "personal quarrel" with the sponsors of the bill but he said that Impastato was "an obnoxious individual" and that "I fell I cannot be consistent with my record unless I oppose this bill with all the power at my command."

The bill was sponsored by Senator E. Langer (Rep.), North Dakota, and Senator Olin D. Johnston (Dem.), South Carolina. Neither has displayed any enthusiasm for pushing the measure since its existence was disclosed.

Narcotics Bureau Letter.

In a speech prepared for delivery before Kiwanis club at Eau Claire, Wis., Wiley disclosed the contents of a letter he received "not 72 hours ago" from Harry J. Anslinger, commissioner of the Federal Narcotics Bureau. Its contents, he said, would prompt a "100 per cent no" answer to any question as to whether Impastato should be permitted to remain in this country.

The text of the letter:

"At your request, I am submitting the following information concerning Nicolo Impastato, alias Frank Impastato, Nicolo Impastato."

Impastato was born in Cis-Italia on June 1, 1900. He entered the United States at New York on Dec. 8, 1923.

Impastato is alleged to be a member of the infamous Mafia and was a partner of Joseph de Luca of a Kansas City narcotics syndicate. Impastato is a professional killer and it is reported that he originally was brought to Kansas City to enforce the edicts of John Lazia, Italian underworld czar.

Heroin Seized.

After the purchase in 1942 of several ounces of heroin, narcotics agents arrested Carl Carramus, Charles Taihi, Phillip Pernice and Samuel S. Pernice and seized approximately one pound of heroin. Further investigation developed that the heroin was the property of the syndicate obtained by Impastato and De Luca from the notorious narcotics trafficking Antinori family of Tampa, Fla. The Antinori family smuggled the heroin into the United States from Cuba.

Evidence developed by narcotics agents at Kansas City disclosed that Impastato and De Luca obtained the pure heroin and morphine from the Antinori family in quantities of from 8 to 15 kilograms every three months.

The local distributor in Kansas City for Impastato and De Luca was Carl Carramus. At the trial Carramus testified for the Government. Impastato was sentenced on April 13, 1943, to two years imprisonment, in the United States district court at Kansas City.

Subsequent to testifying in the narcotics case, Carl Carramus was cut down in gangland style in Chicago for his assistance to the government.

Criminal Associates.

Among Impastato's criminal associates are Frank and Joseph de Luca, James de Simone, Jack Binnaggio and Sebastian Nanni. Nanni was recently convicted of a narcotics violation and of attempting to bribe a federal narcotics agent and is serving a sentence in a federal penitentiary at this time.

Impastato was ordered deported by the immigration and naturalization authorities after appropriate hearings at which it was shown that he had falsified certain immigration documents. Impastato had a lengthy criminal record in Italy which he did not reveal at the time of his entry into the United States."

Richard K. Phelps, now prosecuting attorney in Kansas City, was an assistant United States attorney there when Impastato pleaded guilty to the narcotics charge. He has informed Senators Langer and Johnston, and Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., that as prosecutor in the case then recommended against deportation of the gangster for his plea of guilty.

4 EAST GERMANS REPORTED JAILED FOR PRINTING 'ERROR'

BERLIN, June 23 (AP)—Three editors and a proofreader of Communist East Germany's leading newspaper were reported behind bars today for printing an "error." Their newspaper, the party organ Neues Deutschland, yesterday printed the statement:

"From day to day, in all lands of the earth, the number of persons who have signed the Vienna (Communist) appeal for preparation of an atomic war is growing."

What had actually been meant, the paper explained today, was "prevention" of an atomic war, not "preparation."

Australian Firemen Strike.

SYDNEY, June 23 (AP)—Firemen throughout New South Wales, most populous of Australia's six states, struck today for a shorter working week, the Fire Brigade Employees Union announced. They want their 48-hour week cut to 40 hours. In Sydney, about 1000 firemen walked out.

Excerpts of Molotov's Speech To U.N.: Further Increase in Tension Would Threaten Peace

Primary Obstacle to Settlement of Outstanding International Issues Is Lack of Requisite Trust Among Nations, Russian Foreign Minister Says.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23 (AP). Following are excerpts of Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's address to the United Nations commemorative session yesterday.

We should not ignore the fact that present-day international relations are marked by considerable tensions which are aggravated by propaganda for a new war. And, in particular, we should not lose sight of the fact that any further increase in tension would constitute a threat to peace and would give rise to the danger of a new war.

Some countries have of late become the scene of an unprecedented armaments race that lays on the masses of the people an enormous burden of military expenditure. Also in progress is the constant stockpiling of atomic and hydrogen weapons, and the dangerous consequences of this situation constitute a natural cause for public alarm.

Large-scale construction of military bases is going on in foreign territories. That these bases are being built up for purposes having nothing to do with defense can be deduced from the mere fact that they are to be found thousands of miles away from the countries constructing them. Can that be regarded with equanimity by the states in proximity to which the military bases are being built or, for that matter, by those on whose territories the bases are located?

New Military Blocs. New military blocs and alliances are constantly being formed in Europe, in Asia and in other parts of the world. Of late attempts are being made by all means to draw into these military groupings against the will of their peoples the small countries of the Near and the Middle East . . .

Things have reached such a pass that agreements have been concluded to remilitarize Western Germany and integrate her into military groupings the aggressive character of which is well known. These blocs and alliances in their turn inevitably lead to the formation of defense alliances on the other side.

If propaganda for a new war should continue unabated in some countries; if the armaments race should become intensified . . . if the forming of military groupings directed against other states should continue as heretofore, then international tensions would increase still more. To continue along that path means to drive headlong for the third world war.

On the other hand, one cannot fail to notice the numerous facts which now show that there are in existence reliable paths leading to lasting peace and the consolidation of friendship among nations.

Two years have already elapsed since the war in Korea was terminated on the initiative of the peace-loving countries. The Korean armistice opened the way for the settlement of the Korean problem by peaceful means.

Last year at the Geneva conference an end was put to the war in Indochina on a basis which in general conforms to the aspirations for national liberation of the peoples living in that part of the world.

A most important recent event has been the settlement of relations between the U.S.S.R. and Yugoslavia which took place during the stay in Belgrade of the delegation representing the government of the U.S.S.R.

In this connection, reference should be made to the groundless inventions circulated in the West to distort the meaning and to belittle the significance of the Belgrade talks and of their results. It should be emphasized that the agreement to improve and develop friendly relations between the U.S.S.R. and Yugoslavia which finds its expression in the joint declaration is determined not by any transient considerations, but by the realization that such relations have the utmost importance both for the U.S.S.R. and Yugoslavia and for the reduction of international tensions and the establishment of the necessary trust among nations.

The facts I have cited, together with a number of other facts, show that the policy of reducing international tensions pursued by the Soviet Union and other peace-loving nations is yielding further positive results.

There can be no doubt that the Soviet Government's proposal to establish diplomatic and trade relations with the German federal republic and the invitation extended to Chancellor Adenauer to come to Moscow for talks meet the same purpose. At this point, mention should be made of the fact that between the Soviet Union and the German democratic republic good relations were established at the very outset and that on the basis of these relations political, economic and cultural co-operation is being constantly and ever more successfully developed.

Talks have also been initiated in London for the normalization of relations between the Soviet Union and Japan.

Great Importance. The conference of the heads of governments of the Soviet Union, the United States, Great Britain and France is to take place in the latter part of July.

Russia's Spokesman at U.N. Big Obstacles In Talks Posed By Molotov

government expresses the essence of the Soviet Union's peaceful foreign policy directed toward establishing collective security instead of opposing military blocs.

The Soviet government's proposal on the reduction of armaments, the prohibition of atomic weapons and the removal of the threat of a new war . . . should be viewed in the same light.

The United Nations attaches major importance to the enjoyment of human rights and fundamental freedoms for all, irrespective of race, sex, language or religion, and it is known to be guided by the following basic principles: Equality and self-determination of nations; international collaboration and non-interference in the internal affairs of other states; settlement of international disputes by peaceful means; refraining from the threat of force in international relations.

All this shows that the United Nations Charter clearly recognizes the principle of co-existence and peaceful co-operation between states representing different social and economic systems. It is also clear that co-existence is inseparable from the task of strengthening mutual trust among nations, of putting an end to the "cold war" and the arms race and of developing international economic co-operation on a wide scale.

However, those who pay lip service to the principle of peaceful co-existence sometimes tend to violate the principle flagrantly in practice.

The example of China is a case in point. The indisputable rights of the Chinese people's republic in the United Nations have not yet been re-established. Whatever explanations may be offered for this abnormal state of affairs, the real reason for the violation of China's rights is clear: all.

Merely because the people's democratic revolution triumphed in China and the Chinese people embarked on the building of Socialism, the Chinese people's republic is still deprived of its rightful place in the United Nations. The situation is obviously unjust and unlawful. This unlawfulness can no longer be tolerated without undermining confidence in the United Nations.

All this means that we should pass from words to deeds and embark on such steps as would lead to the establishment of the necessary trust among nations.

The first goals to be achieved are the following:

Implementation of the General Assembly's well-known resolution on the termination of war propaganda in all countries;

Agreement among the great powers to dismantle military bases in foreign territories;

Development of the peaceful use of atomic energy and large-scale industrial, scientific and technical assistance to countries which are less fully developed technically;

WHO'S WHO in the NEWS

New Army Secretary Brucker Once 'Boy Scout Governor'

Elected in Michigan at 36 — 'Overwhelmed' by His Appointment.

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP).

SENATOR SPARKMAN (Dem.) of Alabama, said today Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's speech to the United Nations appears to pose "severe obstacles to the success of the Big Four meeting."

Sparkman said that if Soviet leaders "are going to come with the intention of stressing the issues Molotov raised, they are posing severe obstacles to the success" of the July 18 summit conference.

That meeting will bring President Eisenhower and the premiers of Russia, Britain and France together to discuss world tensions and possible ways to ease them.

Molotov demanded in his speech yesterday at San Francisco that Nationalist China be ousted from the U.N. and replaced by Communist China. He also called on the world organization to take "appropriate steps" looking toward the reuniting of Nationalist Formosa and the Communist mainland. He termed Formosa and the neighboring Pescadores islands an "integral part" of China proper.

Senator Mansfield (Dem.) of Montana, like Sparkman a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a separate interview that Molotov apparently does not know his history.

"Formosa has not been a part of China for more than 50 years," Mansfield said. From 1895 to the end of World War II, he noted, both Formosa and the Pescadores belong to Japan. The peace treaty with Japan avoided a decision on their ultimate sovereignty.

Mansfield said Molotov's remarks at the tenth U.N. anniversary session "was a great contrast, and a very unfavorable one from the Soviet's point of view, with President Eisenhower's great speech of peace Monday."

Senator Capert (Rep.) of Indiana, said the Soviet Foreign Minister was "throwing out those issues and those demands for trading purposes," and he added: "They know that the Western Big Three are going to make a very strong case at the Geneva meeting. They want to get their demands in first."

British, Japanese Trade Talks.

TOKYO, June 23 (AP)—Britain and Japan agreed to extend their trade pact another month to July 31, as they opened trade talks today.

Wilber Brucker for Congress.

When Ferdinand Brucker died, Fordney, a friend of the Brucker family despite political differences, took Wilber under his wing.

Helped Him Get Post.

Fordney's tutelage was largely responsible for the new Army Secretary becoming an Assistant Attorney General in 1927, when the late Fred W. Green became Governor.

He had not been Governor long before the description of "Boy Scout" was attached to him. He was 36 years old at the time, the youngest man to become Governor.

Stevens T. Mason, who was the first Governor of the commonwealth at the age of 24.

Years later, just before he left for Washington in April, 1954, to become general counsel of the Defense Department, Brucker looked back at the years of his Governorship and smiled at some of his recollections.

"I am as proud of having been a 'shavetail' as I am of anything in my career," he said.

"Until two hours ago, I knew nothing whatever about the appointment. I was overwhelmed when Defense Secretary Wilson called me in and said he and the President had decided to ask me to take the position. It took my breath away.

"I said it was all right—I would take it. So we went over to the White House and it was made official. Bob Stevens was one of the first to congratulate me.

"It was a great honor to be invited to take such a position, especially by men like Charlie Wilson and the President, whose life was wrapped up in the Army, a wonderful Army, and I am overwhelmed.

"I never dreamed of anything of this kind. I told Mr. Wilson I had planned to serve my time as general counsel and then return to obscurity.

G.O.P. Happy, President Acts Like Candidate

New England Visit Is Not a Courtesy to Politicians, However.

By DORIS FLEESON

WASHINGTON.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER is making the Republicans very, very happy this week. The reason: He is acting like a candidate.

During his one-day stay in San Francisco for the United Nations celebration he amiably consented to receive a group of party leaders at breakfast. Furthermore, he talked politics with them and impartially praised Californians Nixon, Knight and Knowland in the best candidate style.

Now he is making a tour of New Hampshire, Maine and Vermont where he will make speeches, fish, dine on regional specialties and be generally agreeable to crowds of voting Americans.

Relations With Party.

Normally the visit of a Republican president to Republican areas would not excite much comment. The relations of this particular president with his party are, however, far from normal. It is not alone that he was able to win a landslide victory that they have not since been able to duplicate nationally or locally.

He took office as Governor Jan. 1, 1953, when the "Hoover depression" was beginning to turn around. Brucker yesterday how he, as a former "shavetail," felt about the appointment.

"I am as proud of having been a 'shavetail' as I am of anything in my career," he said.

"Until two hours ago, I knew nothing whatever about the appointment. I was overwhelmed when Defense Secretary Wilson called me in and said he and the President had decided to ask me to take the position. It took my breath away.

"I said it was all right—I would take it. So we went over to the White House and it was made official. Bob Stevens was one of the first to congratulate me.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Crime in St. Louis County

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I was interested in reading that there had been a slight drop in crime in St. Louis according to the latest statistics.

What interested me more than the comparative statistics themselves was the fact that there were statistics available, presumably gathered by the St. Louis Police Department. I am quite sure that one would find it virtually impossible to collect any reliable crime statistics in St. Louis county for any month or any group of months. Why?

Because the statisticians would have to drop in at some 90 city and village halls and needle whatever crime statistics were available from the locked drawer of the village marshal, that is if you could locate him.

This wouldn't happen so much in the larger municipalities. Even so, in these bigger county cities you couldn't be sure that the crime figures given you weren't "doctoring" a bit to make the local elected police chief look good.

Then you would have to pick up crime reports for the large unincorporated part of the county from the sheriff and highway patrol. Sometimes these agencies both handle certain crimes—it depends on circumstances—so you would have to cross-check these reports for duplicates.

Then, and only then, would your statistics gatherers have a picture of crime in the county. Not necessarily the correct picture, however. I think that as far as my contentions here you have only to note that there have never been in recent years any comprehensive crime statistics for the county made public. No, because there have been none available.

Possibly, Police Superintendent Albert DuBois will be able to improve on this pathetic situation. Perhaps not.

COUNTY CITIZEN.

Airmen and Accidents

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I am perturbed over recent newspaper dispatches informing us of another fatal accident involving airmen from nearby Scott Air Force Base. It would appear that their ground safety program would bear immediate improvement.

A safety conscious citizen, I'm wondering what the number one reason is for the seemingly large number of fatalities and injuries to our Air Force personnel? I'm also wondering what is being done or contemplated by the Base Commander?

MR. SAFETY.

A Judge on Fish

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Comes now the judge in reply to "No Judge" (apparently a comrade of "Kirk Reader"), and admits frankly that the "dust" on his steps (any local church lotteries which "N.J." and "K.R." pretend to know about), is of the same quality as a shovel load of "telephone sitting" lotteries handled by the broadcasting companies.

From this quick summary, it takes little imagination to see what grave embarrassments would be President Eisenhower's lot in foreign affairs if the Republicans had not been freed of the McCarthy domination through their 1954 defeat.

The Vote Was 77 to 4

Somewhere sometime either on his New England trip or later President Eisenhower should find a moment in which to thank the American voters for having taken control away from the Republicans in the Senate last November. What happened Wednesday ought to be enough to suggest how much better off Mr. Eisenhower is in the field of foreign affairs with the Democrats in the majority than he would be had his own party's Old Guard retained control of powerful Senate committees.

The issue was the resolution of Senator McCarthy to require the Eisenhower Administration to obtain a commitment from Russia in advance of the Big Four talks to discuss the question of Soviet satellites. It was obvious that the Wisconsin Republican had chosen the plight of the satellites—for which there is of course much sympathy in this country—with the hope of using it to embarrass the President and Secretary of State Dulles on the eve of Geneva.

Senator Green of Rhode Island, who is Acting Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was as staunch a backer of the White House's sound anti-resolution position as Chairman George, who is ill, would have been. Senator Green diagnosed the McCarthy maneuver correctly by saying that it would "scuttle the Big Four meeting before it begins." He also was right in saying it also was "an expression of lack of confidence in the President and the Secretary of State."

So far has Senator McCarthy's star set that every Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, except Senator Langer of North Dakota, voted to kill the hobbling resolution. But the Democrats soundly insisted on taking the McCarthy resolution to the floor for a roll call, as a demonstration of unity behind the President.

Thereupon the Foreign Relations Committee formally denounced the McCarthy tactic, 14 to 0. The Republicans who voted against the Wisconsin Senator were his state colleague Wiley, Smith of New Jersey, Hickenlooper of Iowa, Knowland of California, Aiken of Vermont and Cehapart of Indiana.

But the real measure of what embarrassment President Eisenhower was saved by the G.O.P. defeat last November came on the Senate floor. There Senator Knowland properly opposed a shifty attempt by Senator McCarthy to change his resolution at the last minute so as to save face. The Republican leader, who talked with the President earlier in the day said it would be a mistake "at this time."

Whereupon Senator McCarthy declared himself "shocked" that the Republican leadership should take a position similar to that of the Democratic party which, he said, was "whining and whimpering over Communism." This brought a heated, shouted rejoinder from Senator Knowland who took the "whining and whimpering" charge personally. Later Senator McCarthy tried to withdraw his resolution entirely, but in this he was quickly blocked by Senator Fulbright of Arkansas who, along with Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas, was determined in many parts of the world and especially in Asia.

On balance, the Molotov speech was an effective bid to maintain the peace initiative for Moscow—to picture Moscow as the idealistic champion of peace, and the West as reluctant cynics.

The picture is patently false, but unfortunately the West too often neglects opportunities to prove that falsity. Was it really a triumph, for example, to succeed in suppressing Molotov's move for a peace resolution at San Francisco? Or did we not simply play into his hands by opposing a declaration, on the absurd ground that there would be no need to ease tensions at Geneva if tensions had previously been eased at San Francisco?

There is only one way for the West to get off the anti-peace spot which the Soviet Union has contrived for it. The West needs a "peace offensive" of its own—in the sense of a carefully thought out, positive, just and specific program for the settlement of outstanding controversies. Only that kind of program, at the Geneva conference, will restore the peace initiative where it ought to be—in the hands of the West.

Instability in Italy

Premier Scelba's tender of his resignation leaves Italy without a solution for the grave problem that brought about his Government's fall. That problem is the widening division of the Christian Democratic party into three sections.

It seems reasonable to expect that President Gronchi will designate someone from his left-wing faction of the party to succeed Scelba. Whoever that may be, he will be faced with the continuing problem of putting the party together at least well enough for it to serve as the basis for responsible government.

To that limited extent Italy's problem is not totally unfamiliar to students of current United Nations politics.

President Gronchi hopes by leaning toward Pietro Nenni's fellow-traveling Socialists to draw them away from the Italian Communists. Palmo Togliatti, the leader of the Communists, undoubtedly will have his hopes also.

He called Gronchi's election last April a "sudden, clamorous repulse" of Scelba and his policies. In this new situation he can hardly be expected to overlook any opportunity to use the Socialists as a means of pulling the left-wing Christian Democrats into the Communist orbit as well.

In order to be able to work with others, the Christian Democrats—like our own two major parties in this country—need to learn more than they have learned thus far about working together among themselves.

Growing Danger in South Viet Nam

Although Premier Ngo Dinh Diem's nationalist army apparently has routed and removed the rebellious Hoa Hao religious sect troops as a danger, the situation in South Viet Nam remains one to alarm the free world. For the overhanging shadow of the Communist Vietminh in the north grows more ominous as the time approaches for the general elections in 1956 on whether North and South Viet Nam are to unite or remain separate.

The clouds are so black because South Viet Nam is accomplishing little against the same Communist tactics which played a major part in winning North Viet Nam. Gordon Walker reports in the Christian Science Monitor that skilled Communist agents are winning over the rural areas. The honed promise and the deadly threat are used as the occasion demands.

Premier Diem, who has shown little initiative until lately, seems unable to extend his influence much beyond Saigon. Yet Diem has a wonderful chance to score heavily now by simply making good on the promise to resettle 800,000 refugees from the north who eagerly await land to farm. It is small wonder there are persistent reports to the effect that if the general elections were held now the rural areas would vote Communist.

President Eisenhower warned Diem last fall that he expected American aid to be accompanied by governmental reforms. There is little evidence that Diem has followed through. Unless something is done to fill the political vacuum, help the distressed and erect barriers against Communist infiltration another vital area of Southeast Asia is going to drift behind the Bamboo Curtain.

The Date Is Important

We are glad to know that in President Eisenhower's view Vice President Nixon is "matured" in office. Would the President say that the maturing had taken place before or after the 1954 congressional elections, when the Vice President engaged in one of the lowest, dirtiest, character assassination campaigns on record?

by Mr. Singer, proposes to do. The difficulty is that it will be at least a year before the job is finished. Consequently it will be that long before the county will be in position to lift its valuations without burdening one taxpayer at the expense of another.

No matter what happens in court, the Council must push ahead with its reassessment plan so that by next year the county will have nothing to fear from the Commission. The sooner the parcel-by-parcel revaluation is begun the better.

Molotov Bids for the Initiative

Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov's speech at the United Nations celebration differed in an important respect from most of the others. It was specific. In addition to expressing a generalized desire for peace, he dealt with many of the specific controversies that stand in the way of peace, and called for specific settlements to ease the tensions which everybody agrees, in a general way, should be eased.

Several of Molotov's proposed moves, such as the "dismantling" of overseas bases and the prohibition of "war propaganda," were instantly recognizable as old propaganda retreats, wheeled out for a new run. Others, such as his claiming Formosa for Communist China, were obviously poses tossed to a loyal friend rather than serious proposals for mutually acceptable agreements.

Yet when these parts of his speech have been discounted, there remains an impressive residue which will surely find a favorable response among many peoples of the world—and which, therefore, it would be folly for the West to underestimate.

When Molotov asks for deeds of peace instead of words, he occupies strong ground. When he says that the Soviet Union has now accepted a large part of the West's disarmament plan, and that it is up to the West to make the next move, he occupies strong ground. When he calls for the withdrawal of occupation troops from Germany, and for United Nations recognition of the fact that the Peiping Communists govern China, he is taking a position that enjoys wide support in many parts of the world and especially in Asia.

On balance, the Molotov speech was an effective bid to maintain the peace initiative for Moscow—to picture Moscow as the idealistic champion of peace, and the West as reluctant cynics.

The picture is patently false, but unfortunately the West too often neglects opportunities to prove that falsity. Was it really a triumph, for example, to succeed in suppressing Molotov's move for a peace resolution at San Francisco? Or did we not simply play into his hands by opposing a declaration, on the absurd ground that there would be no need to ease tensions at Geneva if tensions had previously been eased at San Francisco?

There is only one way for the West to get off the anti-peace spot which the Soviet Union has contrived for it. The West needs a "peace offensive" of its own—in the sense of a carefully thought out, positive, just and specific program for the settlement of outstanding controversies. Only that kind of program, at the Geneva conference, will restore the peace initiative where it ought to be—in the hands of the West.

PUT THE KILLER TO WORK

Four Views of U.N.'s First Decade

The Mirror
Public Opinion

Has functioned well as safety valve, says Washington Post; stopped some wars and prevented others, Courier-Journal believes; Chicago Tribune finds it "not worth a hill of beans"; while Providence sees new sense of world community.

The Louisville Courier-Journal

Though it is true that the high hopes of 1945 are still far from realization, there is just cause for celebration.

For whatever else it has failed to do, the U.N. has stopped some wars and prevented others.

And it has scored striking successes in collective action around the world against the age-old problems of human ignorance, poverty, hunger and disease.

The U.N. has not achieved the millennium of peace.

But it has provided the machinery and the atmosphere conducive to preserving world peace. The U.N. is still well behind the ears when in Iranian debt in 1946 it finally complained to it that Russia had violated its pledge to remove Soviet troops from Iran—and it is not to be forgotten that, in bowing to world opinion as mobilized by the U.N. then, Moscow has never again permitted its own troops to be found illegally stationed anywhere.

It was this evidence of Soviet reaction to firmness that inspired the successful gamble of the Truman Doctrine in Greece and Turkey that quickly led to creation of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the policy and posture of Western strength, tested alike in the Berlin blockade and in Korea and in less war-like but ominous situations, which to this day is generally credited with staving off World War III.

Success has not been constant or unmixed, but the U.N. machinery for peaceful methods of discussion and negotiation did help to prevent disaster in Iran, Palestine, Greece, Kashmir and Berlin.

It is not worth a hill of beans.

The Chicago Daily Tribune

We expect that most of the speakers will say that U.N. is a great thing, that it has proved itself, and that the world cannot get along without it. But a dispassionate view would be that, as a functioning and effective instrument for achieving a peaceful world free of international tension and keeping it so, U.N. is not worth a hill of beans.

The ironic fact is that if the conditions U.N. was created to attain actually existed, there would be no need for it.

That is, the reverse is equally true:

That, as a device to bring about such conditions, U.N. is irrelevant.

After 10 years the U.N. organization is still there, with its membership intact, a living example of the truth that division is never more pronounced than when it parades as union.

It is a measure of the irony of this hollow "celebration" that Mr. Eisenhowers speech to the United Nations, although perhaps the most important speech of the year, was not even mentioned.

The alternative is to develop an enforceable law of nations acceptable to all the nation-states, together with international control of armaments, till such time as the world organization can develop into the "great society" and democratic national sovereignty.

The Washington Post

The General Assembly has indeed become what the late Senator Vandenberg envisaged—a town meeting of the world.

It has functioned remarkably well as the safety valve for grievances in international relations. It has a standing in human affairs which no organization of nations has ever had before.

Certainly we may grant that the terrifying development of thermonuclear weapons has contributed mightily to the Assembly's authority.

What is still wanted is some acceptable standard in international conduct.

Alas, we are far from that day. Though there are signs of a thaw, a cold war is still in progress.

The alternative is to develop an enforceable law of nations acceptable to all the nation-states, together with international control of armaments, till such time as the world organization can develop into the "great society" and democratic national sovereignty.

The Providence Sunday Journal

Over the long run, there is reason to hope that continuing identification of individual national interests with the collective interest of U.N. majority, and the persistent efforts of member states

using the U.N. to make the two coincide, may produce a new sense of world community. As this happens, the U.N.

may evolve into a legal order whose authority, being restricted by law, will be accepted by the members as binding and enforceable.

THOMAS L. STOKES

Dominated by Hiroshima

WASHINGTON. WHEN we were at San Francisco 10 years ago for creation of the United Nations we did not know about the horror from the heavens that, in a few weeks, would make a stubble field of a city in Japan. Before that, Hiroshima was a name not even known to most of us.

But the decade since the first atom bomb, during which the United Nations has endured its growing pains, has been dominated by Hiroshima and all it has meant, far more than any of us would like to confess.

While we were setting up the United Nations to keep the peace, we also got the most diabolical weapon of war humankind has ever known.

Its gruesome presence undoubtedly contributed to the tensions that have produced the prevailing mood of these nervous 10 years. It did start a new armaments race between the world's two dominant powers, ourselves and Russia. We have gotten nowhere in the effort to stop this mad contest by some acceptable plan for international control of this new devastating man-made lightning.

A Popular Demand.

But a strange thing has happened. People all over the world gradually have come to see that civilization could hardly survive the destruction of which the giant nuclear weapons now are capable. Consequently, there has been a dawning conviction that we can never permit an atomic war. So the awesome weapon has become, paradoxically, perhaps the world's best hope for peace.

Thus we stand at the threshold of the next decade and, it appears, with governments now more responsive than ever to the yearnings of their people for peace. This was recognized by President Eisenhower in his speech at San Francisco, opening the tenth anniversary observance of the United Nations, when he said: "All of us, I think, will testify that the heartfelt longings of countless millions for abundance and justice and peace seem to be commanding, everywhere, a response from their governments."

Externally, the President epitomized the last decade and the beginning of another and summed up our hopes and our aspirations, thus:

"Today—together—we face a second decade. We face it with the accumulated experience of the first ten years, as well as with the awful knowledge of nuclear weapons and the realization that a certain and enduring peace still eludes our persistent search."

Easy to See, Not Do.

The objectives of the next decade are easy to discern, which does not mean at all that they are easy of realization.

First is the elimination of atomic energy as a weapon, which means a code for disarmament within the United Nations that also would include all other weapons, which we now have come to call "conventional weapons."

Second is the application of atomic energy to the purposes of peace, and, as President Eisenhower recommended again, the creation of a fund out of money saved on armaments to help the backward areas of the world.

Third is a revision of the U.N. charter to make it more effective as an instrument to achieve world order within a clear body of law.

World a Small Town.

Maybe the world finally has reached the point where it can do for itself what communities in our country did for themselves once they had emerged from their crude, pioneer and frontier stage. They would set up effective governments to manage their affairs with the police force to keep order and an accompanying ordinance prohibiting citizens from carrying guns any longer. Thus, with law established, everyone's energies could be devoted to developing the community.

The world is about community-size now, with another nation almost as close as the next town was not so many years ago. It shouldn't take more than 10 years—the next decade—to organize the world community and learn to behave toward our neighbors in it as we do toward each other in our own local community.

MUSEUM GIVEN TWO 17TH CENTURY OILS

Mrs. Mark Steinberg Donor of Dutch and Italian Masterpieces.

Two seventeenth-century European paintings have been given the City Art Museum by Mrs. Mark C. Steinberg, 233 Woodbourne drive, and were placed on public exhibition today in the museum's recent accessions gallery.

Both show the influence of the Italian master Caravaggio (1560-1609), whose dramatic style of extreme naturalism and bold contrast of lighting profoundly affected artists throughout Europe in his own time. He is being paid increasing interest today by art historians and artists.

"The Kitchen," signed with the artist's initials only, "CMHV," measures 19 by 25 inches, is painted in oil on an oak panel and is an excellent example of mid-seventeenth century Dutch genre painting, the straightforward depiction of scenes of everyday life.

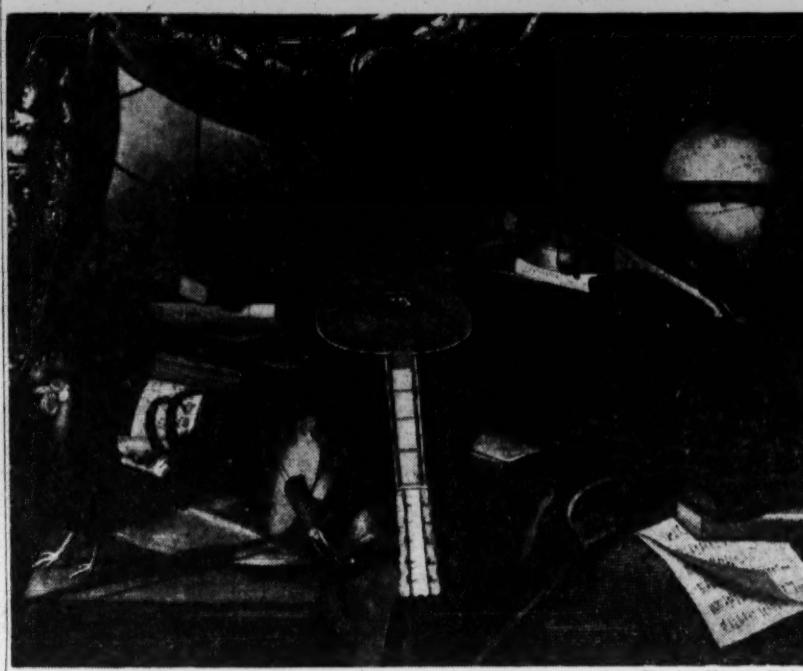

Light streaming into the composition from the left foreground gives clarity and emphasis to such homely domestic utensils as a crock, a bellows, barrels and buckets, pots and pans. Their lusters and details of vegetables nearby supersede in interest the human figures to the right and in the shadowy background.

Dated 1648, the picture bears the stylistic marks of a master whose full name is now lost to history but whose works are preserved in museums of Berlin and other cities.

The other gift is "Still Life With Musical Instruments," by an anonymous north Italian painter whose style resembles that of Evaristo Boscheni of Bergamo. Subject matter for pictures by this master and his followers was drawn from the region's flourishing musical instrument industry, which produced such craftsmen as Antonio Stradivari and Nicola Amati.

Paintings on these themes and in this Caravaggesque manner are in the museums of Bergamo, Cremona, Milan and Turin. Mrs. Steinberg's gift painting, 29 by 38 inches, bears the strong characteristics of the school—powerful lighting and a virtuoso's rendering of such minute details as the notes on sheet music, lettering of a title on the spine of a leatherbound book, markings on

HISTORICAL DATA ON BIG COMPANIES BEING COMPILED

NBC SAID TO HAVE PAID $500,000 FOR 'RICHARD III' FILM

Surveys to obtain historical data on 749 business firms, each employing more than 100 persons, in the St. Louis area are being compiled by the Missouri Historical Society.

The film, a $2,000,000 production made in Spain and England in color, stars Sir Laurence Olivier under the aegis of Sir Alexander Korda.

Morris Hepplin, president of London Film Products, Inc., who represents Korda here, said yesterday he believes the televised showing will stimulate attendance at theaters.

"Richard III" is expected to be televised by NBC next January. The movie runs two hours and 49 minutes, and with intermissions, will take three hours to present on TV.

A few weeks ago, NBC paid a reported $200,000 for another first, one-time showing of a movie, Korda's "The Constant Husband." This movie, billed for TV on Oct. 9, will take 90 minutes.

BETWEEN ROUNDS

by W. J. McGoogan

More Arena Fights?

NEW YORK, June 23.—St. Louis is blacked out, at least at the moment, so far as Wednesday night fights are concerned, for there is no outlet there for the ABC network which now carries those contests.

But it may have something of a good effect in providing more live shows for the Arena, according to Truman Gibson of the International Boxing Club.

"Now that we have no TV outlet there, it seems that we will have more shows in St. Louis during the coming fall and winter months," he said here while attending the Archie Moore-Bob Olson match.

Apprised of the fact that the Missouri legislature recently passed a bill taxing television receipts of boxing five per cent, he seemed confused.

"We have always paid 10 per cent there," he said. "I hope this is not another 5 per cent."

But the understanding is that it is. The 10 per cent always paid was 5 per cent to the state, 3 per cent to the city and 2 per cent sales tax, on admissions, not on TV receipts. This new bill is aimed at collecting 5 per cent from TV receipts.

Whether that will deter the I.B.C. from bringing more bouts to St. Louis probably will be determined by that organization after it finds out if it has to pay the additional tax.

Meanwhile Steve Ellis, manager of Welterweight Chico Vear, says he has been offered a match with Virgil Akins in St. Louis for July 18.

Gibson says he knows nothing about it but Ellis said the offer was made by Irvin Schoenwald, matchmaker for the Arena.

For Sale.

THE I. B. C. would be glad to sell the Arena, Forest Park Highlands and all the adjacent ground which it owns there, President Jim Norris said.

"We would like to sell the whole thing," Norris declared, "but would not indicate what price he was interested in getting, except to say, 'We won't give it away.'

He said the building is a white elephant to them but that if it were located in New York City it would be worth $20,000,000.

Also he didn't indicate why his organization didn't do more to use the building but merely stated that he wanted to get rid of it. So the line forms on the right, boys, for anybody with enough money to buy it.

This, of course, has been rumored for a long time and on more than one occasion the building has been reported sold. These reports have always proved false. But the chances are that now, if Norris is determined to sell, something will be done about it.

Dempsey-Tunney Again.

ACK DEMPSEY and Gene Tunney, who met 28 years ago in Soldier Field, Chicago, have agreed to go back there in a benefit for the crippled children's fund of the Shriners and the Olympic Fund.

The two former champions posed at Dempsey's restaurant, for publicity pictures, for the event which will be held during the National Shrine convention next month.

Tunney declined the lack of small clubs for young boxers to appear in under today's set-up in boxing—a problem brought about by television.

"We used to have 20 clubs in Greater New York when I was starting out," he said, "now the youngsters have nowhere to do their stuff and they are rushed along too fast into television bouts."

"It is a very wrong thing to get a youngster knocked out early in his career. He should have a winning complex built up in him by careful handling and not thrown to the wolves."

And along this line Jimmy De Angelo, manager of Heavyweight Roland La Starza, said that he had a good youngster who has just turned professional.

"I put him in a 4-round bout at St. Nicholas Arena and he looked good in winning it," he said, "but where does he go from here? There is only St. Nick's and Madison Square Garden running now and it is very difficult to get places on the cards at the two places."

Dempsey, who will be 60 years old tomorrow, looks much younger but he has been ill recently and is just recovering. He is under orders to take things easy but won't follow the advice of his physician and friends. He remains, as always, very active in business affairs and in welfare activities.

Carmen Basilio explained that his name "Carmen" is the feminine of "Carmine" but that actually he was christened "Carmen." But the new welterweight champion, who has recovered quickly from the effects of the bruising battle he had in winning the title from Tony DeMarco, said that he had misspelled the name as a youngster and was not corrected.

"I am not going to change it now," he declared.

At the weigh-in, a reporter asked Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York Commission, what he would have done if Moore had failed to make the weight.

"Why worry about that now?" he said. "He made it and that's that."

Bobo Errs in Backing Out of Clinches; Hard Left Hook Ends Fight

By W. J. McGoogan
of the Post-Dispatch Sports Staff.

NEW YORK, June 23.—Archie Moore, still wearing the crown of light heavyweight boxing champion of the world, is looking forward today to the fulfillment of a dream, a dream which started in St. Louis more than 20 years ago. That is to fight for the heavyweight title.

He clinched his argument for a bout in September with Rocky Marciano when he knocked out Carl (Bobo) Olson, middleweight champion of the world, in one minute, 19 seconds of the third round of their scheduled 15-round contest at the Polo Grounds last night, before a crowd of 27,435 persons, who paid $206,784.

It was a surprisingly easy victory for Moore. He had not been expected to be at top strength after taking off 21½ pounds to get down to the 175-pound limit since May 2, and he was 12 years older at 38 than his foe.

Moore switched to a left hook which started Bobo on his way to the canvas. Archie was able to get in two more short left-hand blows which finished the middleweight champion.

Olson fell to the floor and Referee Rubin Goldstein counted over him. Bobo made an attempt to get up before the count of 10 but it was just impossible for him to make it.

Even after it was over, he had to be helped off the floor and sat on a stool near Moore's corner until he had recovered sufficiently to walk to his own corner.

Olson, rather wisely, forsook his usual style of fighting, that of wading into his opponent, and attempted to back away, flicking Moore with lefts at every opportunity and attempting to stay out of harm's way. And he did a very good job of it, too, until Moore took out after him in a serious attempt to end the fight early.

As the third round started, Olson moved around Moore, sticking Archie with a left hand. Then Archie hit Bobo with two good right hands. Bobo protected against a third right, which he thought was coming, solidly coming on.

"We talked this over many times in his training sessions," Flaherty said, "and Olson was instructed to hang on until the referee broke them. But he forgot and that mistake cost him; Moore was able to hit him solidly coming on."

Archie weighed 175 pounds right on the nose and Olson looked frail by comparison to Moore when they went into action.

Dodgers Sure of Having July 4 Lead

Red Sox Move Near 4th Place

NEW YORK, June 23 (UPI)— Shoot off a premature firecracker today for the hot-blooming Brooklyn Dodgers because they now are certain to be in first place on the Fourth of July, the date which means an eventual pennant according to tradition.

Tradition isn't even. In the Dodger starting lineup, but it has a pretty high batting average on teams winning the pennant after being on top July 4, so that should be of some significance to Dodger fans who may still have doubts about their heroes.

Since 1900, teams in first place on July 4 in the National League have gone on to win the pennant 35 times and lost out 20 times. But could there be one bad omen? The last time a July 4 leader failed to win the pennant was in 1951 when the Dodgers blew the flag to the Giants in the playoffs.

The Dodgers assured themselves of the lead on the holiday yesterday when they again defeated the second-place Cubs, 3-2, to go 13 games in front. The Cubs have 12 games to play before July 4, and if they won all 12 and Brooklyn lost all of the 11 it has before that date, the Dodgers still could be in front. Any of five American League teams conceivably could lead the pack by July 4 but the Yankees, as of now, still were in command by two games after another victory, 6-1, over the Athletics. If the Yankees hold their margin they will be an even better bet to win the flag on past performance because in the junior circuit the July 4 leader has gone on to finish on top 38 times as against 17 failures.

Whitey Ford scattered nine hits for his eighth victory and Mickey Mantle hit another long homer in the Yankee triumph, but runner-up Chicago and third-place Cleveland kept pace with shutout wins.

Chicago topped Washington, 3-0, on a four-hitter by Dick Donovan. It was a Donovan's ninth victory, pretty good for a pitcher who never had a major league triumph in four previous years in the majors. He had four previous shutouts, two over Washington.

Cleveland defeated Baltimore, 5-0, on Early Wynn's six-hitter in which he also accounted for two tallies with a double. It was his ninth victory and third shutout and Baltimore's sixth shutout in nine games.

The Red Sox moved to within a game of fourth place with a 12-7 triumph over Detroit in which Ted Williams smacked three doubles and Norm Zauchin hit a three-run homer. Jim Piersall and Sammy White also hit Boston homers and Al Kaline hit two for Detroit while Ray Boone got one.

Tennis Lesson for Collegians

By a Post-Dispatch Photographer

Tennis Tournaments to Keep Seattle's Janet Hopps Hopping

By Harold Tuthill

Janet Hopps, the attractive 20-year-old Seattle University girl who was No. 1 on the men's tennis team at the coast school, has an ambitious schedule this summer which easily could include the title in the college girls' tournament in progress at Washington U.

Miss Hopps won the meet when it was held here for the first time last year and the way she breezed through her opening match against Sarah Luecking of Skidmore, vested in her the title. Her record in the first round, 6-0, 6-0, indicates the transplanted California girl is ready for the big-time circuit which will include the nationals at Forest Hills, Sept. 2-11.

"This is only my second tournament this year," explained Miss Hopps after she defeated Miss Luecking in the second round. Both drew first round byes. "By the end of summer I shall have competed in 13 tournaments," said the Seattle miss, who just finished her junior year.

Miss Hopps related that she was born in Berkeley, Calif., and lived in San Francisco before her sports-minded family moved to Seattle. She arrived too late to know the O'Brien twins, basketball stars who were signed to professional baseball contracts by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

She played on the Seattle varsity team last year when the team won all but two of its 12 matches. This past season the team record was 9-2 and Miss Hopps won eight of her 11 matches.

Miss Hopps was seeded first for the tournament here and a junior, was seeded fourth. She had a bye in the first round and defeated Jean Kipp of Washington U., 6-0, 6-1, to advance to the quarter-finals.

She defeated June Stack, a hard-driving freshman from Michigan State Normal at Ypsilanti, won her first-round match easily, defeating Phyllis Magee of Duke, 6-1, 6-0. Marilyn Montgomery of Trinity U., San Antonio, Tex., also a freshman, was seeded third and gained the second round after receiving an opening bye.

Carole Boshard, freshman at Fontbonne and considered one of the better district players, has to rush from her job at Lowell playground in North St. Louis to be on time for her late afternoon matches. She lost only one game in eliminating Jean Ridgen of Purdue, 6-0, 6-1.

STEALING DEFINITION SIMPLER IN NEW LAW

Bill Is Among 14 Signed—Repeals 59 Existing Statutes.

By

the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

JEFFERSON CITY, June 23—

Repeal of 59 existing statutes relating to larceny, embezzlement and obtaining money by false pretenses, and substitution for them of a new simplified criminal law defining the offense of "stealing," is provided in a series of 14 bills signed yesterday by Gov. Phil M. Donnelly.

These bills, sponsored by the State Committee on Criminal Law Revision, were designed to consolidate under one act all of the offenses covered by the repealed acts. The bills become effective Aug. 29.

The new law declares "it shall be unlawful for any person to intentionally steal the property of another, either without his consent or by means of deceit."

The present $30 dividing line between petit and grand larceny is increased to $50.

However the law defines as a felony the theft of certain specified property, regardless of its value, and imposes felony penitance for such theft up to 10 years in the penitentiary, or a year in jail, or a fine of not more than $1000.

Such felonies include stealing property from a dwelling, automobile theft, stealing of domestic animals, theft of domestic fowls in the night, and stealing of wills or property deeds, legislative bills or resolutions, court records or judgments, and any election registration books or voter lists.

Stealing of property worth less than $50, with the exception of those thefts defined as "contraries irrespective of value, would be punishable by a fine not to exceed $1000, or jail imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both fine and imprisonment.

Broiler-Fryers an Excellent Value

Other Good Buys of Week Include Limes, Lemons, Corn, Green Beans and Tomatoes.

By DOROTHY BRAINERD Post-Dispatch Food Editor

THESE tender, plump little broiler-fryers that now satisfy the nation's demand for young chicken the year 'round certainly deserve a place on your marketing list these days.

Always a good value when you consider their price, plus the fact that chicken provides high quality proteins, minerals and vitamins to keep your family healthy (and consequently happy and in high good humor!) they are expected to be a valuable this month and next. Prices may vary a bit from week to week, depending upon how many come to market, but in general you will find them a stanch friend to your budget.

We have suggested some ways in which they may be served in the feature story on this page—and may we add the reminder that they are ideal for those backyard barbecues?

As for buys in "good red meat," you will find them in chuck, shortribs and a ground beef; in veal roasts, chops and those frozen veal rolls which slice so neatly for sandwiches; in franks, pork sausage, cold cuts; in fancy and No. One bacon, and in Beltline turkeys.

LIMES and lemons rate top honors in the fruit stands. Grapefruit is still here, and still in excellent condition.

Apricots are now coming to town in carload lots—this is the time to enjoy them at their coming right into their season. Most of those now here are of the Royal variety, which is especially flavorful. Sweet cherries are more plentiful than they have been for the last few years, and are showing excellent quality.

Red Cardinal and California seedless grapes are putting in an appearance, and you can find good plums if you are willing to pay for them.

In berries, you may take your pick of blackberries, red or black raspberries, gooseberries and strawberries.

The melon family is represented by some quite nice honeydews, down a bit in price, and by cantaloupes from Arizona which are good enough in quality to justify any slight advance. Watermelons have been so amazingly low priced that it seems inevitable the better ones must start bringing more money.

With the peach crop of the nation shorter than usual this year we may have to wait until about August before we get any real variety, although there are some California peaches in St. Louis stores now, priced as in Alabama or Georgia.

Sausage-Fried Chicken.

Fried Chicken With Hush Puppies

Don't wait until you are cooking fish or seafood to serve Hush Puppies: another frying favorite—chicken—provides flavorful fat for cooking this Southern delicacy. Sausage-Fried Chicken is especially adaptable to Hush Puppies. After cooking the chicken, add more fat for cooking the Hush Puppies. When they are cooked, combine the flavors still further by making Sausage Cream Gravy with part of the drippings.

WE HAVE COME so far, and so fast, in this wonderful country of ours that it sometimes is hard to realize that luxuries we take for granted were special treats not too long ago. Take chicken, for example. There was a time when in most households it appeared only on holidays and for the big meal of the week—Sunday dinner.

Now we enjoy chicken whenever and as often as we want it. And it is far better chicken than grandmother set before her family. All modern poultry is fed a carefully balanced diet designed to produce a high percentage of meat compared to total weight at a very early age.

These tender, flavorful little "broiler-fryers," ranging from one and one-half to four pounds ready-to-cook weight, may be broiled, fried or roasted with equal success.

In the tempting platter shown above they have been served with Hush Puppies in a real Southern treat that is as good in Missouri as in Alabama or Georgia.

Two broiler-fryers, two and one-half pounds each, cut up. One and one-half cups fine cracker crumbs.

Two teaspoons salt.

One pound sausage meat. Roll chicken in cracker crumbs with salt. If packaged cracker meal is used, double the salt. Cook sausage in heavy skillet, breaking it up with fork for uniform cooking, until brown and crisp. Remove sausage meat and set aside for the gravy.

While chicken is cooking, combine three cups of boiling water, the remaining one teaspoon salt, and saffron. Add rice, bring to boiling point, cover and cook over low heat until tender—20 minutes. Remove cover, let stand over low heat to dry the rice, about one minute. Add to chicken along with the two pinonitos. Cook slowly about 10 minutes.

Pour mixture into serving dish, garnish with remaining pimento strips and chopped parsley. Yield: six to eight servings.

From this rather elaborate recipe, let's switch to this very simple but delicious one, just to prove how versatile chicken can be.

Chicken-in-the-Bag.

One cut-up frozen frying chicken.

Flour.

Salt, pepper, paprika and monosodium glutamate.

One-half cup butter or margarine.

Thaw chicken and pat dry. Dredge pieces with flour seasoned with salt, pepper, paprika and monosodium glutamate.

Grease inside of large brown paper bag with butter or margarine. Lay bag in very shallow baking pan, place chicken inside bag in single layer, skin side up. Fold open end of bag over tightly, pin or clip securely so bag won't open during cooking.

Extra fat for deep frying. Two eggs, well beaten.

One teaspoon salt.

Two teaspoons sugar.

One-half teaspoon baking soda.

One cup buttermilk.

One and one-half cups corn meal.

One-half cup sifted all-purpose flour.

One-fourth cup minced onion.

One tablespoon melted fat.

Add more fat to skillet drippings to give a layer one and one-half inches deep. Heat slowly to 365 degrees. Meanwhile blend eggs, salt, sugar, soda and buttermilk. Add corn meal, flour and onion. Blend in melted fat.

Drop dough into hot fat, one heaping teaspoon at a time. Cook to a medium brown color, turning once. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot. Yield: three dozen two-inch Hush Puppies.

Prepare sausage cream gravy, using two tablespoons of the drippings, two tablespoons of flour and two cups milk—adding the sausage meat for the gravy.

Two and one-fourth to one and one-half pound broilers. Four slices of canned pineapple.

Pineapple syrup from slices. Three tablespoons butter or margarine.

One tablespoon cornstarch.

Two tablespoons sugar.

One teaspoon salt.

Pour pineapple syrup from slices over chicken and allow to stand in refrigerator one hour. Drain pineapple syrup from chicken into measuring cup.

Place chicken skin side down on broiler rack. Sprinkle with salt and dot with butter. Place four or five inches below broiling unit and broil for 15 minutes, turning to cook evenly. Turn chicken skin side up; sprinkle with salt and dot with butter. Place six to eight inches under broiling unit and cook 15 minutes longer, or until evenly browned.

GLAZE: Make a glaze for chicken by mixing cornstarch, sugar and salt thoroughly. Slowly add one cup pineapple syrup and bring to boil quickly, stirring constantly. Place pineapple slices on rack with chicken. Spoon the glaze over chicken and pineapple slices; place under broiler for about 10 minutes.

Remove to hot platter. Yield: Four servings.

Chicken with Golden Rice.

One two and one-half to three pound young chicken, cut up.

One-third cup olive oil.

One large onion, finely chopped.

One large green pepper, finely chopped.

One-fourth teaspoon garlic powder.

One-half teaspoon pepper.

One teaspoon paprika.

One bay leaf.

Six teaspoons salt.

Four pinches saffron.

One cup uncooked rice.

Three pinonitos cut in strips.

Two and one-half cups chopped parsley.

Turn up chicken as for frying. Put in large, deep skillet or Dutch oven and brown chicken in oil, on all sides, about 20 minutes. Add onions and green peppers. Cook about five minutes. Then add seasonings (gar-

USE COLOR WISELY IN SUMMER MENUS

DO you ever stop to think how pretty food is in summertime? Colors can be "mixed" or matched" as effectively in menus as in costumes and the vivid, fresh shades of vegetables, of fruits plucked from tree or bush, give you a whole kaleidoscope from which to choose.

You will find it more fun to plan your meals if you keep this in mind. Think of the colors of the various foods in combination with one another, and against the background of your pastel table linens, and you can paint a picture as surely as though you were working with oils and canvas.

Pictorially speaking, the dessert luncheon pictured here is as colorful as summer itself—thin, pale-yellow lemon slices drifting in pitchers of amber-hued tea; scarlet raspberries atop cloud-white cream, garnishing pies in soft-toned red.

The lush raspberry frost filling is made quite simply with vanilla pudding and pie filling mix, raspberry-flavored gelatin, fresh, juicy raspberries.

Raspberry Frost Pies.

One package vanilla pudding and pie filling mix.

Two cups milk.

One package raspberry-flavored gelatin.

One cup hot water.

One-third cup cold water.

One pint fresh raspberries, crushed and sweetened.

Two baked eight-inch pie shells.

Combine pudding mix and milk in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Pour into a bowl. (To avoid surface film, place waxed paper directly on surface of hot pudding.) Chill.

Dissolve gelatin in HOT water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Set bowl of chilled gelatin in a large bowl partly filled with ice and water. (Be sure it rests firmly in larger bowl.) Whip gelatin with rotary beater until fluffy and thick like whipped cream.

Add the chilled pudding gradually to the fluffy gelatin, beating after each addition until well blended. Fold bowl of raspberries into the mixture. Before serving, garnish with whipped cream and whole raspberries.

TRY ELBOW MACARONI
IN SUMMER SALADS

What is the answer to hot weather menu problems? Salads, of course. But the salad may be a hearty one that supplies plenty of energy-yielding carbohydrates if its base is elbow macaroni, which combines happily with fruits, vegetables or meats.

For a crisp, delicious salad that can be prepared in the cool of the morning and then stored in the refrigerator until time to serve, consider this:

Elbow Macaroni
Fruit Salad

One eight-ounce package elbow macaroni.

Two cups diced apples.

One cup pineapple juice.

One No. 2 can pineapple tidbits, drained.

One-half cup raisins.

One-fourth cup lemon juice.

Pour the elbow macaroni into two and three-fourths quarts of rapidly boiling water and one cup pineapple juice juice (drained from pineapple tidbits), one-fourth cup lemon juice and four teaspoons salt. Boil six to eight minutes, or until tender.

Drain and blanch under cold water. Chill. To macaroni add diced unpared apples, pineapple tidbits and raisins. Fold in fluffy marshmallow dressing. Place on bed of lettuce and garnish with slices of oranges. Yield: 10 to 12 three-fourths cup servings.

Fluffy Marshmallow

Dressing:

- One cup cream, whipped.
- Six tablespoons mayonnaise.
- One-fourth cup lemon juice.
- Three-fourths teaspoon salt.
- Three teaspoons sugar.
- 24 marshmallows, cut up.
- One cup coconut.

Mix together mayonnaise, lemon juice, salt and sugar. Fold in marshmallows and coconut. Chill about one hour, stirring two or three times; fold mayonnaise mixture into whipped cream.

Or combine the macaroni with spiced luncheon meat in this:

Picnic Salad.

One eight-ounce package elbow macaroni.

One 12-ounce can spiced luncheon meat.

Four tablespoons mayonnaise.

One-fourth cup chopped celery.

One-fourth cup minced green pepper.

Salt, pepper and celery salt.

Cook elbow macaroni as directed on package. Drain. Chill in cold water. Mix with four tablespoons mayonnaise, two-thirds can of spiced luncheon meat cut into cubes, and one-half cup chopped celery. Season to taste with salt, pepper and celery salt. Chill. Serve on lettuce leaves, topped with one tablespoon of mayonnaise and the remaining spiced luncheon meat cut into strips. Yield: Four to six servings.

HAM AND FRUIT
MAKE FLAVORFUL
GRILL FOR BRUNCH

Here's a pleasing combination of textures and flavors combining ham with fruits that make good company fare for brunch.

Ham and Fruit Grill.

One thick slice of ham, to serve four.

Four slices of pineapple.

Two firm bananas, cut in half lengthwise.

Melted butter or margarine.

Slash edge of ham at two-inch intervals to prevent curling. Place ham on broiler rack; broil about six inches from heat for six to seven minutes, or until lightly browned.

Turn ham. Brush fruit with melted butter. Return to broiler and continue broiling for five to six minutes longer until fruit is cooked and ham is sizzling hot. Yield: four servings.

RAW BROCCOLI COMBINED WITH TOMATOES IN SALAD

Don't hesitate to experiment in the preparation of salads. Almost every vegetable can be used raw in salads to give your family a taste treat and fortify their health, but one in particular is adaptable. It is broccoli, not usually associated with salads.

Raw Broccoli Salad.

One bunch broccoli.

One teaspoon salt.

One-fourth teaspoon pepper.

One-third cup salad oil.

Two tablespoons lemon juice.

Four medium tomatoes.

One-third cup sour cream.

One teaspoon prepared mustard.

Lettuce.

Wash and drain a bunch of broccoli. Chop the flowerets fine. (The stalks can be saved for later use.) Sprinkle with salt and pepper, and moisten with salad oil and lemon juice. Mix well and chill for one-half hour.

Peel the tomatoes and cut in fairly small pieces, squeezing out most of the seeds. Add to broccoli. Add sour cream and mustard; mix well. Serve in lettuce cups.

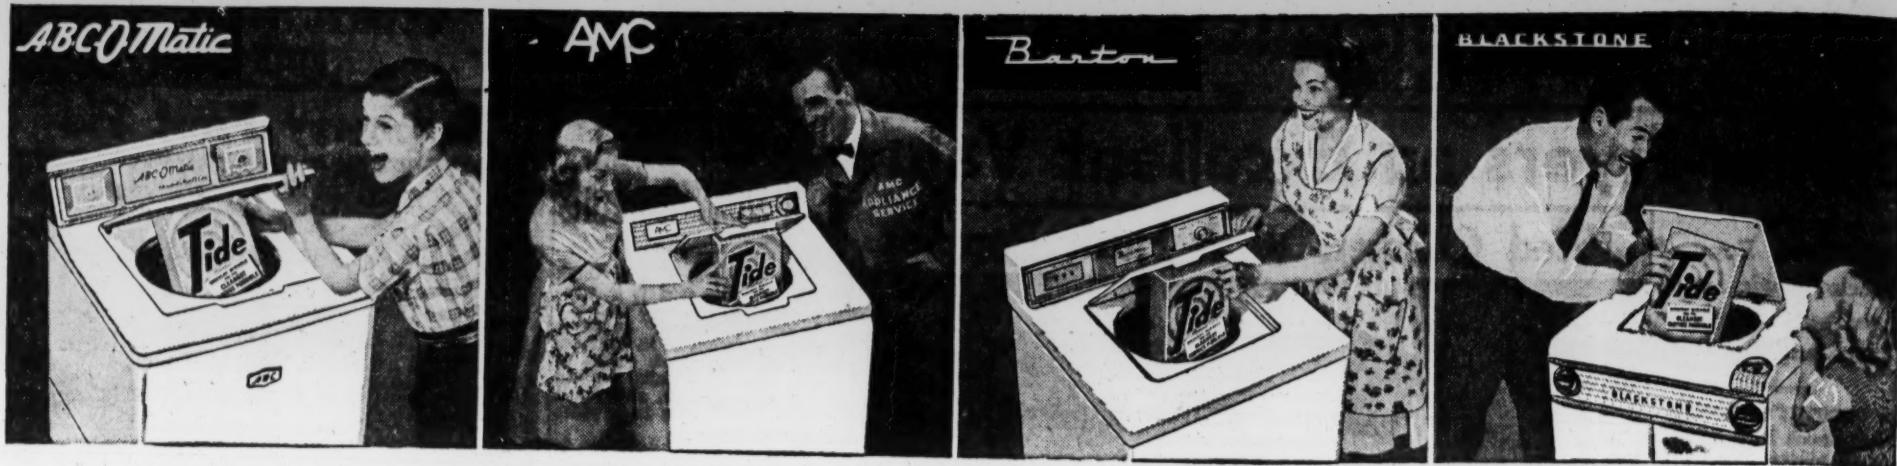

Yield: Four servings.

BROILED SWORDFISH

Sprinkle swordfish steaks with lemon juice, salt and white pepper. Brush with melted butter.

Put on preheated greased broiler pan. Place an two inches from source of heat. Broil three minutes. Turn carefully, brush again with melted butter, and repeat seasonings.

Broil five minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Serve on heated platter garnished with parsley and lemon wedges.

Look what comes in every one ## of these new automatic washers!

TIDE, of course!

These famous manufacturers give TIDE the strongest endorsement possible—they pack a free box of TIDE in every new automatic they make!

To start you out on the cleanest possible wash—a wash that's fresh as a spring meadow after an April shower—these leading washer manufacturers put a free box of full-sudsing Tide in every new automatic they make. With Tide, every one of these top-loading automatics works at its best. In them, nothing else will wash as clean as Tide, yet is so mild—no washday soap, no other detergent known.

Here's why! Getting dirt out is only part of the washing job. It is also vitally important to keep loosened dirt from settling back on the clothes. Tide—with its full-action suds—surrounds the loosened dirt particles... holds them in suspension with an octopus-like grip so they can't sneak back on the clothes. Then, when the Tide suds and dirt whoosh down the drain, after these automatics have done their rinsing job, clothes are thoroughly clean... cleaner than any leading sudsless product will get them.

TIDE washes cleaner than any leading sudsless product—and at 1/2 the cost!

Yes, cleaner clothes at half the cost... that's what Tide gives you. Sure, it's fun to try something new, now and then... but when the shirts turn out not quite so dazzling, the towels not quite so snowy, the diapers not quite so soft... that's when you realize that there's just no substitute for Tide and its terrific cleaning power. Any wonder these famous manufacturers pack Tide in their new automatics? Any wonder more women use Tide in automatics than any other washday product? Use Tide in your automatic!

No washday soap,

NOTHING ELSE
(with or without suds)
WILL WASH AS CLEAN
AS TIDE—yet is so mild!

PASSPORT RIGHT RULED SUBJECT TO COURT REVIEW

Appellate Judges End
State Department's Sole Control on Travel Permits.

WASHINGTON, June 23 (UPI)—The United States court of appeals today struck down the State Department's contention that it has exclusive control over the issuance of passports.

The three-judge court held in a landmark decision that the right to receive passports is subject to judicial review.

The court acted on a case brought by Max Shachtman of New York, chairman of the Independent Socialist League who has been trying to get a passport for 3 1/2 years.

Denied Passport.

Shachtman was denied a passport by the State Department because his organization is on the Attorney General's list of subversive organizations.

The appeals court held that the State Department's grounds legally were insufficient because Shachtman has been trying more than six years to remove the league from the subversive list and has not been able to obtain a hearing.

The decision meant that Shachtman must be granted his passport unless the Government can supply additional reasons for denying it.

The decision was handed down by Chief Judge Henry W. Edgerton, Judges Charles Fahy and George T. Washington.

The court said that to deny a citizen a passport is to deprive him of his liberty.

"The right to travel, to go from place to place as the means of transportation permit, is a natural right subject to the rights of others and to reasonable regulation under law," the court held unanimously.

Therefore, the court said, any restraint imposed on a citizen's liberty must conform with the constitutional guarantee that no person shall be deprived of liberty without due process of law.

The Government had contended that a passport involves foreign relations and, therefore, the Secretary of State has the complete say over who should be allowed to travel abroad.

In this connection, the same appeals court recently ordered the State Department to grant a quasi-judicial hearing to Dr. Otto Nathan, executor of the estate of the late Albert Einstein, who had been trying to get a passport. The State Department then granted Nathan the passport without holding the hearing.

Non-Political Business.

In the Shachtman case, the court said that his contention that his business in Europe would be non-political had not been contradicted by the Government. It said the only reason listed for refusing him permission to travel was his connection with the league.

In this light, the court said that Shachtman's travel abroad could not be considered a question of the State Department's power in the field of foreign affairs.

"For even though his (Shachtman's) application might be said to come within the scope of foreign affairs in a broad sense," the court said, "it is also within the scope of the due process clause, which is concerned with the liberty of the individual free of arbitrary administrative restraint."

"There must be some reconciliation of these interests where only the right of a particular individual to travel is involved and not a question of foreign affairs on a political level."

FARM BUREAU HEAD PROVES HE STILL IS EXPERT MILKER

GRAND RAPIDS, Minn., June 23 (AP)—The head of the nation's largest farm organization rolled up his sleeves here yesterday and proved in a milking contest he still hasn't lost the barnyard touch.

Charles Shuman, Chicago head of the American Farm Bureau Federation, took top honors in the contest—and finished with a contented cow.

The contest judge, A. R. Salmea, head of the animal husbandry department of the University of Minnesota's north central experiment station here, said Shuman's touch was "excellent."

"The cow seemed to enjoy the privilege and responded with the most desirable cow disposition of the group. Mr. Shuman's touch reflected the results of many years of farm experience," Salmea said.

Shuman won the dairy day contest with 4.1 pounds of milk per minute. Jim Morton, Hancock farmer and president of

was second with 3.5.

DETECTIVE JOSEPH WALKER HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Detective Sergeant Joseph Walker was in serious condition at DePaul Hospital today suffering from a ruptured spleen sustained late yesterday in an automobile accident.

Walker, who is 69 years old and lives at 3838 Green avenue, was riding to work with Detective Graham Hogan, of 4619 Lee avenue, when their car was in a collision at Hyatt's place and Dodge street with an automobile driven by James Suhr, 19, of 148 East Dume street, Edwardsville.

After treatment at City Hospital for a fractured rib, Walker returned to his home. Shortly afterwards he became ill and was taken to De Paul hospital where he underwent an operation. Walker, who has been attached to the Union Station detail for several years, is sched-

BODY TAKEN FROM RIVER

The body of Paul Bryant, 17 years old, of 243 Illinois avenue, South Roxana, was taken from the Mississippi river at Alton yesterday. Bryant had been missing since 10:30 p.m. Sunday, when he left church services in his automobile.

The body was identified by the youth's father, Earl Bryant. Bryant said nothing appeared amiss with his son when he drove off Sunday night. When he failed to appear by the next morning, the father notified police.

BRITISH REFLOAT SUBMARINE, 13 BODIES ABOARD

PORLTAND, England, June 23 (AP) — The British submarine Sidon, sunken tomb of 13 men, was brought to the surface today and made fast to the depot ship Maidstone.

Floodlights from six salvage ships glared on the oily harbor waters as the Sidon's periscope and then its bridge structure broke the surface under the pull of four "camels"—giant buoyancy cylinders. By dawn the whole ship was visible.

The submarine sank seven days ago after a practice torpedo exploded within the hull. The 13 victims included 12 members of the crew and a navy doctor who went aboard after the blast to aid the injured. The other crew members escaped.

A navy spokesman said the Sidon would be towed tomorrow to nearby Weymouth and beached before it is opened for removal of the dead.

"We want her safely on the bottom on shore before we do that," the spokesman said.

Tradition of the Sea.
ODAWARA, Japan, June 23 (AP) — A 170-pound turtle was pulled out of the sea at Odawara. Rejoicing fishermen fed him sake (rice wine) and pointed him back to sea. Then they recorded a near-record catch of sardines and mackerel. Turtles are traditional signs of good luck to Japanese fishermen.

BRITISH COAL INDUSTRY LOST $10,000,000 DUE TO IMPORTS

LONDON, June 23 (AP)—Britain's state-owned coal industry lost more than $10,000,000 in 1954 because the government had to import coal for British industry, then sell it below cost. The national coal board today put last year's deficit at £3,800,000 ($10,640,000), although home operations showed a profit of £1,200,000 ($3,360,000). Total production was 224,300,000 tons—700,000 more than 1953—but 5,000,000 tons of foreign coal were necessary to keep pace with the booming British plants and mills.

Sir Hubert Houldsworth, the board chairman, called the result "disappointing." He told a press conference 1,500,000 tons had been lost because of wildcat strikes.

NO CHANGE IN KETC POLICY CONSIDERED

Community Service Programs Won't Be Cut Back, Hickey Says.

No change is contemplated in the basic policy of educational television station KETC (Channel 9) to provide community service as well as strictly educational programs. Philip J. Hickey, acting chairman of the St. Louis Educational Television Commission, said today.

Denying reports that the commission, which operates the station, intended to decrease its non-school offerings, Hickey said: "We want to expand programs of community service, not cut them back."

Maya Simon, who had been producer of the station's public affairs program "Soapbox," told the Post-Dispatch today he thought KETC was drifting away from being a station serving the entire community. He said he thought KETC would concentrate increasingly on televising classroom proceedings, while cutting back on other phases of its work.

Simon said he had asked his superiors at Washington University to relieve him of any connection with Channel 9. Simon, director of the university's TV activities, has been on loan to the station. He said he made his request following announcement yesterday of the resignation of KETC manager Shelby Stork and the dismissal of his assistant, Richard Flanders Smith.

Stork said he resigned in a dispute with the commission over financing the station's operations.

MEDAL OF HONOR WINNERS VOTED $100 A MONTH BY HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—The House whistled to passage yesterday a bill to give each Medal of Honor winner $100 a month for life. The bill goes to the Senate.

The measure started off as a relief bill—opposed by the Eisenhower Administration—when House Veterans Affairs Committee heard that "several" of the 395 living holders of the nation's top military award had gone on public welfare rolls.

The medal winners now get $10 a month after age 65, provided they are not receiving military retirement payments. Twenty-six of them are being paid the $10.

The Veterans Affairs Committee voted to hike the figure to $100 a month for those who are not on the military payroll, active or retired, regardless of age.

Representative Saylor (Rep.), Pennsylvania, won House approval yesterday of an amendment to make the $100 payable to all, no strings attached.

Representative Albert (Dem.), Oklahoma, the House majority whip, backed Saylor. He said Medal of Honor winners should not be "penalized" for staying in service—thus not getting the $100 while the discharged winners did.

The amended bill then went through by voice vote.

STEEL WORKERS REPORTED DEMANDING 25 CT. PAY RISE

HAMMOND, Ind., June 23 (PA)—A CIO United Steel Workers local president said yesterday a 25-cent across-the-board hourly pay increase was being asked of major steel companies in current bargaining talks with major steel corporations.

Bill Hatton, president of Local 3423, said negotiators have been asking the same terms the past week in wage talks with the Screw Conveyor Corp. here. The talks were recessed yesterday pending a basic steel settlement.

REPUBLICANS ASSAIL U.S. ELECTION BILL

4 on Senate Committee Call It Unworkable, Perhaps Unconstitutional.

WASHINGTON, June 23 (UP)—Republican members of the Senate Rules Committee today assailed as "cumbersome, unworkable" and perhaps unconstitutional a new election bill approved last week by the committee's Democratic majority.

The bill proposes a major overhaul of federal election laws. It would let political parties and candidates spend more money on election campaigns and extend the jurisdiction of federal election laws to primaries.

It would also forbid political committees to work for a candidate unless the candidate himself authorized the support and would require any individual or committee spending more than $100 in a campaign to file a report.

Minority Report.

The four Republicans stated their criticisms in a minority report on the bill published today. The measure cleared the committee by a 5-to-3 vote along party lines last week, but all four Republican members signed today's report. The signers are Senators William E. Jenner of Indiana, Frank A. Barrett of Wyoming, Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin and Carl T. Curtis of Nebraska. McCarthy was absent when the 5 to 3 vote was taken.

The Republicans protested that the new bill "fails to correct the widespread abuse wherein millions of laboring men and women are compelled to give financial aid to candidates and to a political party not of their choice in order to hold their jobs."

This referred to the operations of the CIO's Political Action Committee, the AFL's separate for Political Education and similar labor groups. Labor leaders contend that these are political groups outside the unions which draw their support from the voluntary contributions of union members.

'Million Reports'.

The minority report complained also that by placing local committees campaigning for federal candidates under federal regulation, the proposed law would transfer more functions to the Federal Government. Requirements that such election committees report expenditures could lead to "close to a million reports," the Republicans said.

They stated also that the proposed law "may violate the Bill of Rights" by barring contributions and spending by committees not approved by the candidate himself. The Republicans said "this collides with the constitutional provision guaranteeing the rights of free speech and peaceful assembly."

The bill's provision which would extend the jurisdiction of federal election laws to primary campaigns also came in for Republican comment. This provision previously had stirred up some adverse private comment among Southern Democrats as well.

The Republican report did not flatly reject the idea that primaries and state nominating conventions should be under the jurisdiction of the federal law. It said, however, no such provision should be included until further study of the idea has been made.

MIKOYAN SAYS RED LEADERS WILL QUIT VODKA FOR PEACE

MOSCOW, June 23 (UPI)—Soviet Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan said yesterday "we will do anything for peace," even give up vodka.

He made the remark when chided about drinking tomato juice at a reception where Soviet leaders had non-alcoholic beverages with Indian Prime Minister Nehru, who does not drink liquor on religious grounds.

How to keep nylon white and get old nylon white, too!

Almost every woman has a nylon slip or blouse she doesn't wear because it looks "dingy." As you know, grayed or yellowed nylon is one of today's most vexing laundry problems. Somehow, it just never seems to come clean:

Now, however, there's a product that solves the problem of nylon that's too dingy to wear but too good to throw away. It's not a bleach, not a bluing. It's not something you have to buy extra. It's a family-wash detergent—new Sunshine Surf—with a scientific whitener that gets its power from the ultraviolet rays found in sunlight. It gets everything clean, yet it's safe for the sheenest of fabrics. (It's kind to your hands, too!) And it works whether you dry your clothes indoors or out!

But the real wonder of this new Surf is the way it makes old nylon look bright again!

It may not happen the very first time you wash it. (Remember, it took months to get that way.)

But after several washes you'll see that dingy nylon getting whiter and whiter. You'll be proud to wear it again.

The plain fact is that no other detergent can get all your wash—nylon-rayon-cotton—as white and clean as new Surf with the ultraviolet whitener. And you've got to agree or we'll return every cent you paid, plus postage. Better put new Surf on your shopping list right now! Lever Brothers, New York 22, New York.

A resisting arrest charge against Vincent T. McMahon, automobile dealer and former campaign manager for Mayor Raymond R. Tucker, was nolle prossed in Police Judge Robert G. Dowd's court today by Assistant City Counselor Roy A. Fish.

Fish explained that a jury which tried the case last March had deadlocked. The same jury fined McMahon $50 on a speeding charge and acquitted him of driving through an automatic signal. The charges grew out of his arrest last Oct. 22 at Grand boulevard and Gravois avenue.

Also Fish said, the city had

FACILITIES AT PLANT HERE

The Fisher Body plant here will expand its facilities by approximately 95,000 square feet, B. H. Sweeney, plant manager, announced today. This will represent the local project in the $500,000,000 expansion program announced yesterday in Detroit by James E. Goodman, general manager of Fisher Body.

The structural steel erection is nearly completed and architectural work is now in process. New production facilities will be installed.

A completely modern paint department will be put into operation and improvements are to be made in the trim department and cushion room.

REDS QUICKLY RETURN G.I.S WHO STRAYED ACROSS LINE

MUNSAN, Korea, June 23 (AP)—Two American soldiers were seized by the Chinese Communists when they accidentally crossed the Korean truce line yesterday as the Reds returned them today, the United Nations Command announced.

The command said the two Americans reported they had been treated well. The Americans are Sgt. Robert L. Hartman of North Sacramento, Calif., and Pfc. James P. Dillon of Brooklyn.

Maj. Gen. Harlan C. Parks, senior allied member of the truce commission, commented that the quick release was "in marked contrast" to Communist treatment in previous similar incidents.

SECOND SINGAPORE MAN HELD, LINKED TO REPORTER'S DEATH

SINGAPORE, June 23 (AP)—Police have arrested a second man in connection with the killing of United Press correspondent Gene D. Symonds while he was covering a labor riot May 12.

Suppiah Subramanian, a 25-year-old Indian, was charged in Singapore magistrates' court today with being a member of an unlawful assembly, one of whom murdered the American newspaperman. He was ordered held in jail for a further hearing in a week.

The first man arrested, Ong Ah Too, a Chinese, was charged last week and is awaiting trial.

REPUBLICANS ASSAILED U.S. ELECTION BILL

4 on Senate Committee Call It Unworkable, Perhaps Unconstitutional.

WASHINGTON, June 23 (UP)—Republican members of the Senate Rules Committee today assailed as "cumbersome, unworkable" and perhaps unconstitutional a new election bill approved last week by the committee's Democratic majority.

The bill proposes a major overhaul of federal election laws. It would let political parties and candidates spend more money on election campaigns and extend the use of primaries to federal election laws to primaries.

It would also forbid political committees to work for a candidate unless the candidate himself authorized the support and would require any individual or committee spending more than $100 in a campaign to file a report to primaries.

Minority Report.

The four Republicans stated their criticisms in a minority report on the bill published today. The measure cleared the committee by a 5-to-3 vote along party lines last week, but all four Republican members signed today's report. The signers are Senators William E. Jenner of Indiana, Frank A. Barrett of Wyoming, Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin and Carl T. Curtis of Nebraska. McCarthy was absent when the 5 to 3 vote was taken.

The Republicans protested that the new bill "fails to correct the widespread abuse wherein millions of laboring men and women are compelled to give financial aid to candidates and to a political party not of their choice in order to hold their jobs."

This referred to the operations of the CIO's Political Action Committee, the AFL's League for Political Education and similar labor groups. Labor leaders contend that these are political groups outside the unions which draw their support from the voluntary contributions of union members.

'Million Reports'.

The minority report complained also that by placing local committees campaigning for federal candidates under federal regulation, the proposed law would transfer more functions to the Federal Government. Requirements that such election committees report expenditures could lead to "close to a million reports," the Republicans said.

They stated also that the proposed law "may violate the Bill of Rights" by barring contributions and spending by committees not approved by the candidate himself. The Republicans said "this collides with the constitutional provision guaranteeing the rights of free speech and peaceful assembly."

The bill's provision which would extend the jurisdiction of federal election laws to primary campaigns also came in for Republican comment. This provision previously had stirred up some adverse private comment among Southern Democrats as was made.

The Republican report did not flatly reject the idea that primaries and state nominating conventions should be under the jurisdiction of the federal law.

It said, however, no such provision should be included until further study of the idea has been made.

MIKOYAN SAYS RED LEADERS WILL QUIT VODKA FOR PEACE

MOSCOW, June 23 (UP)—Soviet Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan said yesterday "we will do anything for peace," even give up vodka.

WIENER LOAF

What you need:
2 medium loaves French bread
No. 2 can tomatoes
5 tablespoons onion, finely chopped
1/2 cup celery
1/4 cup pepper
1/2 teaspoons vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt
Pepper

1 teaspoon sugar
Few drops Worcestershire
Few drops Tabasco sauce
1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 clove garlic
1/2 pounds onions

How you do it:
1. Slice bread in half, lengthwise.
2. Combine tomatoes, 2 tablespoons onion, green pepper and celery.
3. Add onions, green pepper, Worcestershire sauce, Tabasco, 3 tablespoons onions, add to tomato mixture.
4. Cover and refrigerate 20 minutes.
5. Thicken with cornstarch blended with a little cold water.
6. Heat onions, cut in half lengthwise, turn crosswise to fit the loaf.
7. Spread some of the mixture on bottom of a 9x13x2 inch pan, cut onions in half, arrange onions cut side down, and spoon sauce over top.
8. Cover with other half of bread.
9. Cut into sections.

ICE CREAM CHOCOLATE CUPS

What you need:
1 square semi-sweet chocolate
10 marshmallows, cut in small cubes
2/4 cups corn flakes
1 cup coconut
Few grains salt
1/4 cup nuts (optional)
1 quart vanilla ice cream

How you do it:
1. Melt chocolate over boiling water.
2. Add marshmallows, corn flakes, coconut, salt and nuts, stirring lightly until well blended.
3. Quickly press over sides and bottom of 6 well-buttered muffin pans, using a buttered spoon.
4. Chill until firm. Serve filled with ice cream.
5. Top with chocolate sauce if desired.

SPINACH RING

What you need:
1 can (10 oz.) spinach, drained
1 cup celery, chopped
1 medium onion, chopped
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/2 cup American cheese, grated
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

1/2 cup mayonnaise
Seasoned bread crumbs

How you do it:
1. Combine spinach, 1/2 cup milk in saucers; heat, stirring occasionally.
2. Add celery, vegetables and pepper; mix, heat thoroughly.
3. Add cheese to biscuit mix.
4. Add mayonnaise, stir until soft dough is formed.
5. Turn out on lightly floured board; knead.
6. Pat or roll dough lightly 1/4 inch thick; cut with floured biscuit cutter.
7. Place hot tuna mixture into 1/2 quart baking dish.
8. Place biscuits on top of mixture.
9. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 20-30 minutes until biscuits are lightly browned.

Quantity: 3 or 4 servings.

TEN MINUTE TUNA PIE

What you need:
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1/2 cup milk
1 can (7 ounces) tuna
1 package (10 oz.) quick frozen peas and carrots, cooked
1/2 cup melted butter
Dash of pepper

1/2 cup biscuit mix
1/2 cup American cheese
1/2 cup milk (about)

How you do it:
1. Combine soup and 1/2 cup milk in saucers; heat, stirring occasionally.
2. Add peas and carrots.
3. Add melted butter.
4. Add cheese to biscuit mix.
5. Form into 10 small balls.
6. Turn out on lightly floured board; knead.
7. Place hot tuna mixture into 1/2 quart baking dish.

PUBLIC RELATIONS OFFICERS

Bernard A. Ehrenreich, director of public relations for the Bank of St. Louis, was elected president of the St. Louis Chapter of the Public Relations Society of America, Inc., last night. He succeeds Douglas Williams, a vice president of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Other officers elected were M. Ritchey Cring, of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad, vice-president; and Robert E. Smith, secretary to Mayor Raymond H. Tucker, secretary-treasurer.

How to keep nylon white and get old nylon white, too!

Almost every woman has a nylon slip or blouse she doesn't wear because it looks "dingy." As you know, grayed or yellowed nylon is one of today's most vexing laundry problems. Somehow, it just never seems to come clean.

Now, however, there's a product that solves the problem of nylon that's too dingy to wear but too good to throw away. It's not a bleach, not a bluing. It's not something you have to buy extra. It's Sunshine Surf—with a scientific whitener that gets its power from the ultraviolet rays found in sunlight. It gets everything clean, yet it's safe for the sheerest of fabrics. (It's kind to your hands, too!) And it works whether you dry your clothes indoors or out!

But the real wonder of this new Surf is the way it makes old nylon look bright again!

It may not happen the very first time you wash it. (Remember, it took months to get that way.)

But after several washes you'll see that dingy nylon getting whiter and whiter. You'll be proud to wear it again.

The plain fact is that no other detergent can get all your wash—nylon-rayon-cotton—as white and clean as new Surf with the ultraviolet whitener. And you've got to agree or we'll return every cent you paid, plus postage. Better put new Surf on your shopping list right now! Lever Brothers, New York 22, New York.

THE FISHER BODY EXPANDING FACILITIES AT PLANT HERE

The Fisher Body plant here will expand its facilities by approximately 95,600 square feet, B. H. Sweeney, plant manager, announced today. This will represent the local project in the $500,000,000 expansion program announced yesterday in Detroit by James E. Goodman, general manager of Fisher Body.

The structural steel erection is nearly completed and architectural work is now in process. New production facilities will be installed.

A completely modern paint department will be put into operation and improvements are to be made in the trim department and cushion room.

REDS QUICKLY RETURN G.I.S WHO STRAYED ACROSS LINE

MUNSAN, Korea, June 23 (AP)—Two American soldiers were seized by the Chinese Communists when they accidentally crossed the Korean truce line yesterday but the Reds returned them today, the United Nations Command announced.

The command said the two Americans reported they had been treated well. The Americans are Sgt. Robert L. Hartman of North Sacramento, Calif., and Pfc. James P. Dillon of Brooklyn.

Maj. Gen. Harlan C. Parks, senior allied member of the truce commission, commented that the quick release was "in marked contrast" to Communist treatment in previous similar incidents.

SECOND SINGAPORE MAN HELD, LINKED TO REPORTER'S DEATH

SINGAPORE, June 23 (AP)—Police have arrested a second man in connection with the killing of United Press correspondent Gene D. Symonds while he was covering a labor riot May 12.

Suppiah Subramanian, a 25-year-old Indian, was charged in Singapore magistrates' court today with being a member of an unlawful assembly, one of whom murdered the American newspaperman. He was ordered held in jail for a further hearing in a week.

The first man arrested, Ong Ah Too, a Chinese, was charged last week and is awaiting trial.

3 YOUTHS ADMIT SERIES OF ROBBERIES

They Are Found Hiding Under Truck in Creve Coeur Filling Station.

Three young men who were found last night in a Creve Coeur filling station at Lindbergh boulevard and Olive Street road admitted two other filling station burglaries in the county and a series of robberies of tools from the Midland Container Corp., 827 West Koenig avenue, police reported today.

The youths, who were found hiding under a parked truck, said they were about to loot the station and admitted taking 40 cartons of cigarettes, a car radio, a hunting knife and two guitars from a station at Lindbergh and Ladue road, police said. They also admitted robbing a filling station at Spode and Ladue roads of cigarettes and tools last Monday, it was reported.

When confronted with tools found in the home of one they confessed entering the Midland plant last Sunday and stealing saws and other tools, Company officers, identified some of the loot.

Taken to St. Louis county jail at Clayton, the youths said they were John R. Lyons, 18, of the 300 block of East Marceau street; Charles A. Wheat, 18, of the 200 block of Blow street, and John L. Fraley, 17, of the 100 block of West Cartwright street, Lemay.

The loot from the station at Ladue and Lindbergh was found in an automobile used by the three which was parked on Olive Street road.

The first robbery was discovered by Creve Coeur Patrolmen Dean Piotraschke and Thomas Gooch, cruising in a radio car, who observed a rear window had been broken. Suspecting that another station might be robbed, Piotraschke went to the station at Lindbergh and Olive Street road, and found the men.

EX-CONVICT GETS 12 YEARS FOR FOUR STORE ROBBERIES

Clifford Frost, an ex-convict, living in the 4100 block of Lafayette avenue, was sentenced to 12 years in the state penitentiary by Circuit Judge J. Casey Walsh today on his plea of guilty to four charges of robbery of grocery and drug stores.

A confederate, Ben W. Dickey, 2000 block of Waverly place, received eight years on his guilty plea in three of the holdups.

They held up groceries at 818 Clarendon avenue and at Ninth street and Lafayette avenue last Feb. 19 and March 5, obtaining $94 and $105, respectively, and a drug store at 3961 West Florissant avenue March 5, obtaining $97. The charge against Frost alone was in the $275 robbery of a grocery at 4225 Natural Bridge avenue May 23, 1953.

CHARGE AGAINST M'MAHON OVER ARREST NOLLE PROSS

A resisting arrest charge against Vincent T. McMahon, automobile dealer and former campaign manager for Mayor Raymond R. Tucker, was nolle prossed in Police Judge Robert G. Dowd's court today by Assistant City Counselor Roy A. Fish.

Fish explained that a jury which tried the case last March had deadlocked. The same jury fined McMahon $50 on a speeding charge and acquitted him of driving through an automatic signal. The charges grew out of his arrest last Oct. 22 at Grand boulevard and Gravois avenue.

Also Fish said, the city had asked for several continuances because of the illness of the arresting officers, Patrolmen Herbert Miller, who died, and Francis Knighten.

BIGGEST PAKISTAN POLITICAL PARTY LOSES CONTROL

CHICAGO, June 23 (INS)—Pakistan's Moslem League party, dominant since the country was established eight years ago, has lost its majority and will have to accept a coalition, final results of the Constituent Assembly election showed today.

The new Assembly elected yesterday to replace the original body dissolved last October by Gov. Gen. Ghulam Mohammed has 72 elective seats. The Moslem League won only 25, while the United Front headed by East Pakistan leader Abdul Kasem Fazul Huq took 16 and the Awami League led by H. S. Subhrawary won 12. The remaining seats went to minorities, 11; independents, 7, and Communists, 1.

Eight more members of the Assembly will be appointed to represent Bahawalpur state, Baluchistan, Karpur, the Frontier states and tribal areas.

Moslem League leader Mohammed Ali will continue as Prime Minister but must form a coalition with either the United Front or the Awami League. His choice is not yet known.

The new Assembly is expected to concentrate on writing Pakistan's constitution.

And mind you, these are the same, fine, tender, juicy meats that A&P offers its customers every day, week after week... and always with a money-back guarantee. Today, because of the exceptionally large number of money-saving opportunities awaiting you in our Meat Departments, we need this entire newspaper page to tell you about them. Even though you are one of the thousands who save by buying meats at A&P regularly... you will be surprised at the large number of values listed here. If you've never bought meat at A&P... use this page as your first shopping list. And when you come in to buy—compare the cuts and quality, you will convince yourself that A&P has the meat values. Yes—when you think of trying to save more on your food budget... remember A&P, where fine food is sold cheap.

PIGEONS PERSISTENT PICKERS

Pigeons, the feathered panhandlers of big city streets, settle down to getting their share of newly-sown Bermuda grass seed on triangular park at Grand and Washington boulevards. They scratch and peck through a straw mulch to get at the seed and insects in fresh topsoil. Park Commissioner Palmer R. Baumes is confident the grass-growing attempt will survive the pigeon invasion. "I think we're going to have more grass than pigeons," he said, and expressed confidence that by this time next week the grass would be coming up nicely through the straw mulch. Cannas will be planted around the central fountain in the face-lifting operation on the midtown spot.

START OF TRANSATLANTIC PHONE CABLE

Workmen using gasoline drums as floats pull ashore the first segment of the world's first transocean telephone cable. The cable is being laid from the British ship Monarch at the fishing village of Clarenville, Newfoundland. It will stretch 2250 miles from Clarenville to Oban, Scotland. The Monarch, photographed in operation at Clarenville yesterday, is scheduled to reach Oban by the end of this summer.

PROPOSED TAFT MEMORIAL

Drawing of a 100-foot marble bell tower which President Eisenhower and former President Hoover have urged Congress to accept as a gift in memory of the late Senator Robert A. Taft. The building, to be erected on the Capitol grounds in Washington, would be donated by the Robert A. Taft Memorial Foundation. Funds would be raised by public subscription to pay cost of between $1,000,000 and $1,200,000.

DEFEATED WARRIOR'S HOMECOMING

A wife's solicitude is mirrored in the face of Mrs. Carl (Bobo) Olson as she greets her husband today on his arrival in San Francisco from New York, where he was knocked out last night by Archie Moore in a light heavyweight title fight. Olson, the middleweight champion, was outweighed, outreached and outgunned, and lasted less than three rounds.

CAUSE AND EFFECT

Scene in New York City's Seventh Avenue, north of the Times Square district today, when a flurry of accidents tied up traffic for blocks. Fire engine at right first hit an automobile, setting on a chain reaction which finally involved a bus, two taxicabs and three other automobiles. Driver and passenger in smashed cab in foreground were taken to a hospital.

'Way to Relax'

He Spends Vacation Leading a Band

By Mary Kimbrough

CESAR GONZMART'S idea of a vacation is to cut down his working day from 14 hours to four and do nothing but play the violin, lead a band and conduct a floor show. That's why he's spending it in St. Louis.

For 50 weeks out of the year, Cesar is in Tampa, Fla., where he has an interest in his father-in-law's Columbia Spanish restaurant, doing the buying, the publicity-writing and the advertising, supervising sideline enterprises of packaging and selling restaurant products throughout the state, conducting a weekly television show which may turn into a film series for national distribution, and leading the restaurant band for dancing from 7:30 p.m. until long after midnight.

For these two weeks of his vacation, he was persuaded to cut out everything except his first love—music—and bring his band to St. Louis for the opening of the Chas. Hotel's Starlight Roof. The engagement continues through June 29.

THE 34-YEAR-OLD SON of Spanish parents, with a doctor of philosophy degree in music from the University of Havana, had no intention of becoming a business man and part owner of a restaurant. It just happened that he fell in love with the boss's daughter—but without knowing who she was.

That was 18 years ago, and he lost his first job because of her. "When I was 16, I was employed as a violinist at the Columbia Spanish restaurant, owned by Casimiro Hernandez," Cesar said. "About that same time I met this girl, Adela Hernandez, at school. I started bragging about how the boss liked me, having no idea who she was, and I asked her if she wanted to see me play."

"Well, she came, and when I tried to introduce my boss she said, 'Yes, I know Mr. Hernandez. He's my father.' But she was real nice about it and we started dating. But because of me she started missing some classes at school and her dad got so mad he fired me."

THAT SHOULD HAVE BEEN THE END of the romance, but Cesar had a one-track mind where Adela was concerned. Three years later, he saw her again in New York, where he was leading a band at the World's Fair.

"We had to double behind the soda fountain when the show wasn't on, and the time she heard I was playing at the Fair and came out to see me, there I was dishing up ice cream. I guess she thought I'd never amount to anything. I had a date with her and she stood me up."

A few years later, their paths crossed again in Havana, where Cesar had completed his graduate work at the University about the time that Adela came there with her parents to present a voice recital. Through his contacts, Cesar was able to get her some excellent publicity, which made Papa Hernandez look on him with kindlier eyes, and when Mrs. Hernandez fell and fractured a collar bone, forcing the family to cancel the return home, Cesar had enough time to propose and be accepted.

AND THAT'S HOW IT HAPPENED that Cesar Gonzmart, who had dreamed of being a violinist since he saw one play on shipboard when he was 3 years old, became instead a restaurant operator. After his marriage, he and Adela took his orchestra on the road, playing in some of the top night spots of the country—including the Park Plaza in St. Louis—but a few years ago his father-in-law, now in failing health, asked him to put aside his baton and take over the restaurant.

For two years, he did just that, but he hadn't forgotten his love for music, so with Hernandez's permission, he rounded up his former band members and added entertainment to his other list of restaurant duties.

"And that's how I happen to be back in St. Louis," Cesar said. "Harold Koplar saw me in Tampa and asked me to come back on my vacation. And that's just what it is."

"Work to lead a band? Of course not. That's the way to relax."

Storm Warning

By Dr. Paul Popenoe

HUSBANDS and wives need to invent some sort of system of storm warnings which one or the other could hoist when they are irritable and in the mood for a squabble. The other could then pull for shelter until the danger is over and save it's evident that the O.W. family needs something like this.

Mrs. O.W. writes: "When we're both in good spirits, nobody could enjoy life more than my husband and I do; but if one of us is out of sorts the other flares up and we have a terrible time."

OBVIOUSLY Mrs. O.W. you need a little more imagination to fend off these collisions. Gambling houses have a lookout, a peephole and a buzzer. When a stranger approaches the lookout inspects him through the peephole and sounds the buzzer if the stranger is suspect. The gamblers inside hide their cards, chips and other paraphernalia so that anyone who enters finds merely a group of sober business men studying the stock market reports or something of the kind. If you could survey your husband through a hole in the front door, as he comes home, and give the alarm when his appearance is weird, the whole family could seek the cyclone cellar.

Actually, you can work out a number of plans. Your husband might phone on the way home and say, "I have had a beastly day. When I get home, don't pay any attention to me until I have a chance to take a bath and rest for a while." Similarly you could greet him at the door with, "Sit down in the living room and don't look at me until supper is on the table. Everything has gone wrong today."

HAVE YOU HEARD of a "mother-in-law rug"? In some families discussion of a mother-in-law is sure to start a squabble, so they have a throw rug somewhere, and the agreement that either one who wants to talk about a mother-in-law will go and stand on that rug while he does so. It's quite a help!

Figure out a system of some kind that meets your own needs, and stay with it. You can avoid half your quarrels if you do so.

Good Sauces Add Flavor to Fish

They Are Not to Be Used for Hiding One's Inability at Cooking Seafood

By Hoyt Alden

THE trouble with fish, said a husband I know who might be called typical, except that isn't his name, lies in the fact that most women don't know how to cook it. Then they think they can cover up their inadequacy with some kind of fish sauce, which might be all right, except they don't know how to make a good fish sauce either.

I wouldn't go so far as to say this includes all women. There must be one or two scattered around the country who can make a good fish sauce. But I'll have to agree he has a point.

Take, for instance, America's standby, which is tartare sauce. As served in most of the homes and eating establishments around the country, it's quality is open to question. It also defies analysis.

Apparently most restaurant and home cooks think that tartare sauce is just a dab of mayonnaise aided and abetted by chopped pickle. Such is not the case. But a real tartare sauce, which is so hard to come by, you would think it was top secret, can do wonders with an otherwise ordinary fish.

A pretty fair tartare sauce can be made pretty quickly, as follows:

Combine a tablespoon of finely chopped pickle, a tablespoon of chopped parsley, a tablespoon of capers, a teaspoon of onion juice and a teaspoon of celery salt and mix it with a cup of mayonnaise. Stir it well and chill.

Another one goes like this: To a cup of mayonnaise add a teaspoon of chopped parsley and the same amount of chopped green onions, tarragon, gherkins and olives. Stir in a little less than a teaspoon of prepared mustard and salt and pepper to taste.

Then beat in four tablespoons of olive oil, a little at a time. Now add a scant teaspoon of grated onion, flavored with a teaspoon of garlic; a teaspoon of a genuine, 24-karat tartare sauce, start from scratch and do it this way:

Beat over the fire in the upper part of your double boiler four egg yolks, two teaspoons of tarragon vinegar, and four tablespoons of water. When it thickens, remove it from the fire and let it cool.

Then beat in four tablespoons of olive oil, a little at a time. Now add a scant teaspoon of grated onion, flavored with a teaspoon of garlic; a teaspoon of anchovy paste, a few chopped capers and English mustard to suit your taste. Mix it and chill it and you have wonderful tartare sauce.

For cold fish, a horse radish sauce is hard to beat, especially the way the Swedes make it. They give it an extra touch of salt seen in this country — grated apple.

Whip a cup of heavy cream, add a little salt, a little white pepper and the juice of a lemon. Now a slightly heaped tablespoon of ground horseradish and a tablespoon of grated, tart apple.

If you want something that will do wonders with codfish steaks, or any firm fillets such as flounder or haddock, try a beet sauce like the Italians make.

Chop a good sized onion and brown it in four tablespoons of olive oil in an earthen casserole.

Add a teaspoon of minced olives, a teaspoon of celery seed, and salt and pepper to taste. Cook it over a slow fire for a few minutes and then add a cup of thinly sliced cooked beets. Let them heat through.

Now put the fish on top of the sauce in the casserole and cover it. Cook it for 15 minutes over a moderate flame and then add half a cup of white wine. Let it come to a fast boil, jerk it off the stove and serve it up.

A whipped up tuna fish dish has become such a standby with so many women on Friday that the old man dreads to see the day come around and the kids run from it like it was canned spinach.

Such doesn't have to be the case. Tuna is a splendid canned fish, and with a little extra trouble can be transformed into something delicious. This is called creamed tuna, but it is far from being as prosaic as the name indicates.

Blend a tablespoon of butter and a tablespoon of flour in a saucepan over a low flame and slowly pour in a cup of milk and keep stirring until you have a fairly thick cream sauce.

When it is thoroughly smooth and blended, put in a seven-ounce can of broken up tuna. Stir it in gently. Then put an asbestos pad under the pan for real slow cooking, and add a tablespoon of salted capers from which the salt has been washed, a dozen minced green olives, a dozen black olives which have been pitted and crushed, a can of coarsely minced pimento, and a cup of cream. Stir it up and let it get hot and serve it on toast. It will result in a vote of confidence in the tuna fish.

Trip to Europe

25 Words

By John Keasler

WELL, you go down to the super market to get the baby some stuff for his formula and the first thing you know you're in Switzerland. Then you got to worry about the taxes. That is the American way. Twenty-five words or less, that was the cause of it all.

Garbled? Well, this confused approach might be excused as appropriate in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Wohl, a young St. Louis couple who won one of those contests we're always reading about.

They are still excited (except for that part about the taxes) about their big trip to Europe. They just returned the other day, loaded with souvenirs and still amazed that it all happened to them, and with a new respect for contests.

"We never really thought those contests were real, somehow," said Wohl. "It seemed the winners were always somebody in Oshkosh—not actual persons."

HERE'S WHAT HAPPENED to the Wohls: They live at 5522 Waterman. Mrs. Wohl shops at a super market not too far away. Grocery employees at the check-out stand occasionally put contest entry blanks in her shopping bag.

She and her husband eyed them idly. The contest consisted of writing the inevitable 25 words or less, in this case on this theme: "I would like to win a Cinerama Holiday at National Food Center Stores because . . ." It was a tie-in between the grocery firm and the movie, "Cinerama Holiday," showing here.

Having nothing better to do at the time, Mr. and Mrs. Wohl filled in some blanks with the very best prose they could think of. Wohl is advertising and sales promotion manager for Central States Paper & Bag Co., so that made it nice—nobody understands an ad-man like another ad-man.

After filling them out—the general thought being that they had always wanted to go to Switzerland—the Wohls forgot about them, let the blanks rest on a shelf. It was only luck they submitted them at all; luck and the demands of their brand-new baby, Barry Andrew.

The mix for his formula ran out on Saturday, after Mrs. Wohl had done all the rest of the shopping. She had to go back to the store. As chance would have it, she remembered the contest blanks—took them along. It was the closing day of the contest, she learned later; if she had waited until Monday, it would have all been over.

A FEW DAYS LATER—this was early in April—a telegram arrived. Mrs. Wohl is of the school which feels that telegrams are devoted to bad news solely. She took a deep breath and put the baby down, with a feeling of "What now?"

"You have won first prize," the telegram said, in brief. Mrs. Wohl's mind did flip-flops, trying to remember what first prize was—she remembered that second prize was an all-expense stay at the Waldorf, but first prize eluded her momentarily. A trip to Switzerland?

My goodness, yes. A trip to Switzerland. The whole thing had a never-never quality about it, so much so that Mrs. Wohl, wary of practical jokes and a practicing realist, got on the telephone and called up the store.

"Are you sure?" she kept asking. "Are you sure we won first prize?" Finally convinced, she called her husband. Then it was Mrs. Wohl who had to do the convincing.

Once the point was made, Wohl came home. Mr. Wohl looked at Mrs. Wohl and Mrs. Wohl looked back. Switzerland. My, my.

IN A MATTER OF DAYS they were winging across the Atlantic. Neither had ever been to Europe. Barry Andrew was left with grandparents, Switzerland was getting closer all the time, and the baby-formula counter of their neighborhood grocery seemed a long way back.

Their entry had been chosen from among 8000 St. Louis entries—to this day they don't recall the exact wording because contest headquarters didn't publish it, the idea being to avoid argument with disgruntled losers who might feel their prose was of a deeper glow.

"Most folks take months to plan for a European trip," Wohl said. "We were practically pulled out bodily."

Fun it was. The Wohls approved of Switzerland, which was pretty and not snowbound—full of cold watchmakers—as some preconceived notions have it. Everything was paid for, and they even had $100 pocket money given them. They got there in time for a colorful festival in which old man Winter is burned in effigy and everybody goes strongly pro-spring and executes dances in the streets.

THE ALL-EXPENSE PART was for a week. But the Wohls figured the trip was a chance of a lifetime—stayed some three weeks longer, on their own, before taking the paid-for flight back. On thing led to another. Switzerland led to Italy. Geneva to Milan to Florence to Rome to Venice. Italy led to Paris. They did it up right.

"That costs money," said Wohl, with a bare trace of retroactive rue. Mainly, though, he is glad they seized the opportunity to extend the tour. He has a wrist alarm watch from Switzerland. He and Mrs. Wohl have a great many souvenirs like programs and menus and ticket stubs. Wohl's hobby is photography and he certainly has a lot of pictures. Of Europe. He has a picture of the Leaning Tower of Pisa which, we learned with some alarm, is getting worse. He has pictures of the Swiss Guards pulling duty outside the Vatican.

Back home came the Wohls, after a wonderful time. Thrilled relatives had been saving contest blanks for them, in the thought that such master contest winners as the Wohls would want more fields to conquer.

They have since entered one contest, Wohl says. The name of it is "Why I Like Grossinger's Bread." They really love that Grossinger's bread. We forgot to ask what first prize is in that contest, and we're glad—it is somehow more fascinating not to know. It makes for broad horizons.

One thing's for sure. It's in 25 words or less.

A BREEZY insurance man came to town and kicked up quite a furore by writing liberal policies for prospects of 88 and over. A representative of the home company caught up with him in due course and demanded, "Are you trying to bankrupt us? What's the idea of giving policies to these antiquies?" "I was banking on the law of averages," maintained the agent, very much aggrieved. "Look up the figures yourself. You'll see how few people of 88 or over die each year!"

HOLLYWOOD SCRIBE Herb Stein hotly defends his many afternoons spent at the race track. "Not only am I in the open air," he points out, "but running back and forth between the paddock to the grandstand is magnificent exercise. When I get home at night I haven't got one ounce of superfluous cash on me."

She's Fulfilling a Schoolgirl Ambition

Ruth Millett Prophesied She'd Become Newspaper Woman—Now Writes Column for 450 Papers.

By Clarissa Start

SEVERAL years ago Ruth Millett was going through some family souvenirs her mother had saved for her and came across her high school class prophecy. The prophecy foresaw Ruth as a famous newspaper reporter, and since the prophecy was written by Ruth Millett, it is not too surprising that it came close to the truth. Not a reporter for one newspaper but a syndicated columnist for 450, including the Post-Dispatch. Ruth has been fulfilling her girlhood ambition for the past 18 years.

She has long been our favorite columnist—even, we must confess, when she appeared in an opposition newspaper—and we are happy to report to her other fans that she is even more charming in person than in print. Attractive, reddish hair, and trim of figure, Ruth Millett comes from Austin, Tex., and has the kind of personality that radiates warmth, plus one of those soft voices in which the words melt together like butter and honey on a waffle. Here in St. Louis for the Theta Sigma Phi (honor society for women in journalism) convention, she spoke at the newspaper banquet Monday night. When she finished, she was encircled by admiring editorial page sages and star-struck college youngsters alike.

"What's Worrying Women" was her topic and it's a subject that worries her. She receives quite an insight into women's worries from letter writers write, and she makes it clear that she doesn't agree with those who think that "any American woman who worries, lucky as she is, is just neurotic."

"I think women today have worries and they're different problems than the ones they used to have," she told us. "They're different from her problems during the war years, for instance. Then the average woman had only one problem and it was a simple one. All she wanted to do was get that man back and he was going to be perfect and she would be perfect for him."

NOW she finds there are four kinds of problems reflected over and over again in column mail.

"One big problem," she enumerates, "is that of the wife who works, who doesn't need to work but can't turn loose of her job because she doesn't know how to get out of the groove. Perhaps she started working when her husband was in school or getting started in business. Now they've both gotten used to the double income standard and when she broaches the subject of quitting she finds he's not too enthusiastic about it. It's a new problem but one that's been increasing in the last 10 years."

"A second worry is that of the full time housewife who's hit middle years and no longer feels as necessary as she once did. Perhaps her husband needed her once and he'll need her again in their later years but now his life is shared by other men. When he has a business problem, he takes it to a man. When he gets away to relax, he goes on a hunting or fishing trip. And she has a real problem."

"Another problem is that of the woman on whose shoulders has fallen the burden of caring for aging parents. Men have that problem too, financially, but it's the woman who must handle the living arrangements and the clash between personalities."

The fourth big problem among women today, Ruth Millett admits is one that's been artificially created by those who write for women and who, consciously or unconsciously have created impossibly high standards to which the average woman cannot measure up.

"She's an avid reader and tryer-out of beauty routines and tries to make it look much different," Ruth Millett points out. "She puts on fresh lipstick and tries to put romance into her marriage" when her husband comes home at night but very often he only wants to know "what's for dinner." She reads the books of child psychology and yet she still yells at the children and she feels guilty about it. She's told the work has been taken out of housework and wonders why she's so tired at night.

"Most women are trying very hard today and I think the only way in which they're failing is in trying to do too much and losing sight of their main goals in life."

was greatly impressed with Anne Lindbergh's book, "Gifts from the Sea," which dealt with the search of today's woman for a perspective on life.

"It impressed me that a woman of her stature is faced with the same problems as little Mrs. Jones of any small town," she says.

One reason that Ruth Millett can speak and write so sympathetically and understandingly of women's problems is that her life as a woman comes before her life as a writer. The wife of an orthopedic surgeon, Dr. Frederick Lowry, and mother of 13-year-old twins, Lynne and Pete, she fits her career around the lives of her family.

As that high school prophecy indicated, it's a career she's always hoped to have, and an ambition she might be said to have inherited. Her father, Ralph Millett was associate editor of the Memphis Press-Sentinel and wrote editorials up to and including the day he died, at age 76, last November.

BROTHER, Ralph Jr., is news editor for the Knoxville News-Sentinel, and she herself attended the University of Iowa and studied journalism with newspaper work in mind.

"When I got out of school in 1934 there just weren't any jobs," she recalls, "and I was lucky to get one at Northwestern Missouri State Teachers College at Marysville, Mo. There I was supposed to do public relations and teach journalism and act as assistant dean of women, and do a few other jobs, all for a salary that was really pitiful. But I didn't feel poor. Things didn't cost much and I guess I didn't have very fancy tastes."

One of her university jobs consisted of freshmen orientation which involved the handling of etiquette problems. Because there was so little written on social usage, she wrote a booklet, and since it was the first thing that had ever by-lined her name, she proudly to her mother. He thought she had a good idea for a newspaper column and suggested that she send it to Newspaper Enterprises Association.

As a wife and mother, Ruth Millett Lowry finds that her columns are influenced by her family and that now she is taking much more of an interest in teen-age problems. She decries people who tell mothers "the next year will be worse" and thinks that adolescence is the most fascinating time of all.

As a woman, she finds she has only one major problem and it's not that popular conception of what to do with those mythical liberated leisure hours.

"It seems I never have enough time," she sighs. "To do all the things I'd like to do."

South opened with one diamond, and the final contract in most cases was six no-trump.

One North, however, had his own ideas on the subject of responding, and it must be conceded that in this case, at any rate, they worked out beautifully. At his table the auction went:

West, unwilling to lead from his heart honors, opened the club nine. Declarer then counted tricks. In sight were five clubs, three top spades, three top diamonds and one heart, a total of 12 tricks. The thirteenth trick, obviously, could come from the diamond suit, if it broke, or the spade suit if that was split 3-3.

Declarer, a well known expert, realized that it would not be a good idea to run off the five clubs, discarding a silly-nilly dummy, until he had tested the break of diamonds and/or spades. So, at Trick 2 he led the diamond deuce to the ace and returned a diamond to the king. East's showing out settled his attention to the spade suit, cashing the king and queen. This time West showed out, and South saw that he would have to look elsewhere for the fulfilling trick. However, he was not at all alarmed, because the situation had shaped up as a perfect double squeeze.

South cashed the diamond queen and the spade ace, then ran the clubs. On the last round West had to reduce to one heart to hold the high diamond. Thereupon, declarer discarded the last diamond from dummy, keeping the A-8 of hearts there, and it was East's turn to feel the pressure. He had to hold the high spade against South's nine, hence he too was forced to come down to one heart, and South subsequently took the last two tricks with the ace and eight of hearts.

Answer to Question 1.

TRUE. A friend gives us two things. First, the opportunity to express our real selves, which relieves nervous tension and gives us a sense of sharing our lives with others; second, a friend, by sharing himself with us, gives us the feeling of being important—the happiest feeling human beings ever have.

Answer to Question 2.

TRUE. In the long run. Many beautiful women rely solely on their beauty and neglect to develop their minds and personalities.

By and by, as beauty fades, such a woman will likely find herself on the shelf.

Psychologists strongly advise against making an unusual to-do over a pretty child in the presence of less attractive brothers and sisters or playmates. This will most likely make the pretty child a prig and the others feel inferior and frustrated.

Answer to Question 3.

NO. Ed Blakeslee, telephone executive, tells me this one: "Your most brilliant ideas come in a flash, but the flash comes only after a lot of hard work. Nobody gets a big idea when he is not relaxed and tired. It's a big idea when he is relaxed all the time." I've tried both ways without visible results. But, learning how to relax mentally and physically—is one of the great arts of happy living.

When a staff vacancy occurred, they offered her a job reporting and writing feature stories in New York. She and her husband lived there for several years while he was taking his medical training. When time came for him to set up his own practice, she talked NEA into letting her continue her etiquette column plus women's column from home and has combined her two jobs ever since.

The major column, which was known for a while as "We, the Women," very definitely takes second place to her job as homemaker. She writes six columns a week, tries to keep in advance, and when deadlines loom too ominously, shuts herself up in her home office and unplugs the telephone.

Miss Audrey Wallace's Debut Reception Today

By Margaret Allen Ruhl

MISS AUDREY FAUST WALLACE, a debutante of next season, will make her first formal appearance today at a garden reception, where she will be introduced to several hundred of her family's friends. Namesake of her mother but called Teile, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Brookings Wallace Jr., who will give the party at their home, 100 Sunningdale drive, St. Louis Country Club Grounds, Ladue.

The setting is Spanish, as its name, Casa Audion, implies. The stucco house, covered with vines, has near it a Spanish wall, topped by a tower and mission bell, which will provide a background for the receiving line. Water trickles from a wall fountain into a tiny pool which is flanked by two enormous blue jardinières filled with salmon-colored Picardy gladiolus.

The salmon-pink tones are emphasized in summer cotton cloths which cover dozens of small tables about the grounds, and the Spanish theme is continued in the table centerpieces—broad-brimmed straw hats, the crowns removed for wide hurricane lamps and the brims filled with fresh green bananas and avocado pears. A buffet table stretched beneath one of the several balconies surrounding the house, is also covered with salmon material and is centered with gilded driftwood heavily hung with multi-colored grapes.

At dusk the wall and the entire house will be illuminated with lights shining upward from the ground and throughout the lawn dozens of wrought-iron hurricane lamps will glow in the grass.

A small punch table will be presided over by Miss Almira Steedman Baldwin, Miss Jane Cochran, Miss Elizabeth Busch and Miss Louise Conant, all of whom will make their bows next season.

The debutante is to wear white organdy embroidered in a pink scroll flower design, the short skirt flaring wide over crinoline and the off-shoulder, fitted bodice adorned in front with a pink velvet bow and streamers. She will carry a nosegay of pink flowers.

Mrs. Wallace's gown is rose beige alencon lace over matching taffeta, made with short sleeves, a long fitted bodice and flared skirt. She will have a white orchid corsage.

Miss Wallace attended Mary Institute, was graduated from the Madeira School, Greenway, Va., and has just completed her freshman year at Briarcliff Junior College. On Dec. 23 she will have her second coming-out party, a ball to be given by her parents at the St. Louis Country Club. She will spend the summer with her parents at their house in Harbor Point, Mich.

Miss Taylor Engaged to Lt. Hyatt.

MRS. AND MRS. FOXHALL PARKER KEENE TAYLOR of New York and Foxhall Farm, Round Hill, Va., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Charlotte Paxton Taylor, to First Lt. John Kenneth Hyatt Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kenneth Hyatt, 1 Lenox place. The prospective bridegroom is currently stationed in the Far East with the Marine Corps. Wedding plans are contingent on his return to this country.

Miss Taylor was graduated from the Nightingale-Bamford School, New York, and earlier this month from Sweet Briar College. She was introduced to the summer with her parents at their house at the Bachelors' Cotillion in Baltimore, the Junior Assemblies in New York and a private supper dance. Her paternal grandparents were the late Talbot Jones Taylor and the late Mrs. Edward I. Frost of New York; her maternal grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Luther Holmes Chamberlain of Warrenton, Va. She is a great-niece of the late Foxhall P. Keene, and the great-granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James R. Keene. The bride-to-be is a member of the New York Junior League.

A former student of St. George's School, Newport, R.I., Lt. Hyatt was graduated from the Riverdale Country Day School, New York, and from the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, in 1953, at which time he received his commission in the Marine Corps. He and his family used to live in Bronxville, N.Y. Brother of Mrs. William J. O'Hearn (Elizabeth Hyatt), Park Forest, Ill., and Clinton M. W. Hyatt, St. Louis, the bridegroom-elect is a grandson of Mrs. Fred F. Rogers, Newport, and the late Dr. Guy D. Dowdall, Chicago, and of the late Dr. and Mrs. Thaddeus P. Hyatt, New York and Stamford, Conn. He is a member of the New York Yacht Club and the Army-Navy Club in Washington.

Dinner Dance Tonight for Ann Mueller.

MONDAY THE JUNE debut parties will be that night of Miss Ann Marie Mueller, who will be introduced to her contemporaries at a garden dinner dance given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Mueller, at their home, 6364 Forsyth boulevard, Clayton. The debutante was honored at a tea last September.

Guests will be greeted in the hall before the circular stairway. Miss Mueller will wear a full-length princess gown of white organdy designed with an off-shoulder neckline and a voluminous skirt worn over hoops. The bodice features a lacing of white satin ribbon and the skirt is distinguished by two satin bows just below the waistline in back. She will carry a nosegay of stephanotis and white orchids. Mrs. Mueller has chosen a white lace gown over blush-pink tulle, cut to a halter neckline. She is to have a white orchid corsage.

On the terrace a green and white striped marquee covers the dance floor and swimming pool, around which are placed many small tables centered with hurricane lamps and clusters of spring blossoms. Guests will serve themselves from a long buffet table on the patio, where a garden fountain provides a background.

Four of Miss Mueller's classmates from Manhattanville College in New York, Miss Patricia Langie of Rochester, N.Y., Miss Gail Hurley of Albany, N.Y., Miss Carol Neri of Englewood, N.J., and Miss Monica Durand of White Plains, N.Y., are here for the occasion. The young women will be juniors next year.

MRS. EDWIN F. SCHOCH, 433 Carson road, her children, Raymond, Linda, Susan and Claudia, and her mother, Mrs. Frank Whelby, will leave Sunday for New York. They will sail June 30 on the Italian liner Saturnia for Naples. Mrs. Schoch and her family will visit Rome, Venice, Milan and Lucerne. Also in Switzerland they will stop at Interlaken and Montreux. They will sail for home on the Vulcania from Geneva Aug. 20, and land in New York Sept. 2.

While they are away Mrs. Whelby's brother-in-law and sister will occupy their home.

The debutante is to wear white organdy embroidered in a pink scroll flower design, the short skirt flaring wide over crinoline and the off-shoulder, fitted bodice adorned in front with a pink velvet bow and streamers. She will carry a nosegay of pink flowers.

Mrs. Wallace's gown is rose beige alencon lace over matching taffeta, made with short sleeves, a long fitted bodice and flared skirt. She will have a white orchid corsage.

Miss Wallace attended Mary Institute, was graduated from the Madeira School, Greenway, Va., and has just completed her freshman year at Briarcliff Junior College. On Dec. 23 she will have her second coming-out party, a ball to be given by her parents at the St. Louis Country Club. She will spend the summer with her parents at their house in Harbor Point, Mich.

Miss Taylor Engaged to Lt. Hyatt.

MRS. AND MRS. FOXHALL PARKER KEENE TAYLOR of New York and Foxhall Farm, Round Hill, Va., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Charlotte Paxton Taylor, to First Lt. John Kenneth Hyatt Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kenneth Hyatt, 1 Lenox place. The prospective bridegroom is currently stationed in the Far East with the Marine Corps. Wedding plans are contingent on his return to this country.

Miss Taylor was graduated from the Nightingale-Bamford School, New York, and earlier this month from Sweet Briar College. She was introduced to the summer with her parents at their house at the Bachelors' Cotillion in Baltimore, the Junior Assemblies in New York and a private supper dance. Her paternal grandparents were the late Talbot Jones Taylor and the late Mrs. Edward I. Frost of New York; her maternal grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Luther Holmes Chamberlain of Warrenton, Va. She is a great-niece of the late Foxhall P. Keene, and the great-granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James R. Keene. The bride-to-be is a member of the New York Junior League.

A former student of St. George's School, Newport, R.I., Lt. Hyatt was graduated from the Riverdale Country Day School, New York, and from the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, in 1953, at which time he received his commission in the Marine Corps. He and his family used to live in Bronxville, N.Y. Brother of Mrs. William J. O'Hearn (Elizabeth Hyatt), Park Forest, Ill., and Clinton M. W. Hyatt, St. Louis, the bridegroom-elect is a grandson of Mrs. Fred F. Rogers, Newport, and the late Dr. Guy D. Dowdall, Chicago, and of the late Dr. and Mrs. Thaddeus P. Hyatt, New York and Stamford, Conn. He is a member of the New York Yacht Club and the Army-Navy Club in Washington.

Dinner Dance Tonight for Ann Mueller.

MONDAY THE JUNE debut parties will be that night of Miss Ann Marie Mueller, who will be introduced to her contemporaries at a garden dinner dance given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Mueller, at their home, 6364 Forsyth boulevard, Clayton. The debutante was honored at a tea last September.

Guests will be greeted in the hall before the circular stairway. Miss Mueller will wear a full-length princess gown of white organdy designed with an off-shoulder neckline and a voluminous skirt worn over hoops. The bodice features a lacing of white satin ribbon and the skirt is distinguished by two satin bows just below the waistline in back. She will carry a nosegay of stephanotis and white orchids. Mrs. Mueller has chosen a white lace gown over blush-pink tulle, cut to a halter neckline. She is to have a white orchid corsage.

On the terrace a green and white striped marquee covers the dance floor and swimming pool, around which are placed many small tables centered with hurricane lamps and clusters of spring blossoms. Guests will serve themselves from a long buffet table on the patio, where a garden fountain provides a background.

Four of Miss Mueller's classmates from Manhattanville College in New York, Miss Patricia Langie of Rochester, N.Y., Miss Gail Hurley of Albany, N.Y., Miss Carol Neri of Englewood, N.J., and Miss Monica Durand of White Plains, N.Y., are here for the occasion. The young women will be juniors next year.

Wedding on Saturday For Jeanne Yoder

superintendent of the Methodist Church of St. Louis.

Miss Yoder will have Miss Donna Littrell, Mendon, Mo., as maid of honor and Mrs. Thomas T. Kampman, San Antonio, Tex., sister of the bride-elect, Miss Joyce Green and a cousin, Miss Marietta Lindemann, Nevada, Mo., as bridesmaids.

Mr. Snover, son of Mrs. Warren E. Snover, 7639 Alicia near Raymond Heights, and the late Mr. Snover, has asked Wilson Bell to serve as best man and Alan Hoefer, Albert Rohling and Miss Yoder's father, the minister, will perform the ceremony assisted by the Rev. Herman H. Luetzow, district superintendent.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward W. Kelley and their daughter, Miss Nancy, and Mrs. Kelley's sister, Mrs. Edward R. Schmidt, 117 Wesley avenue, returned Wednesday from a week's visit to Rochester, Minn. The Kelleys spent a short time visiting relatives in Ferguson before returning to San Antonio. They will leave soon to spend the summer in San Mateo, Calif., where they have taken an apartment.

MR. AND MRS. Forest Keele will announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Merle Mae Keele, to E. Raymond Lake, a cricket player Sunday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock in their home, 1323 Chambers road. Mr. Lake, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Holt Lake of Liverpool, England, has made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Schmidt for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Keele and their daughter and Mr. Lake recently returned from a three-week motor trip to Mexico. They visited Mexico City, Cuernavaca, Acapulco and many other points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Moore, 123 Wesley avenue, and their daughter, Mary, will sail Aug. 5 on the Steamer United States for England. Mr. Moore, instructor in English at Ferguson High School, will be an exchange teacher for a year on a Fulbright scholarship. He will teach at a grammar school for boys at Bromley, Kent. Cort McPhail will be the exchange teacher from England, and he and Mrs. McPhail will occupy the Moore home. The Moores will arrive in Bromley the day before the McPhails leave and spend the night with them.

MRS. ANSON MORE KELLEN and her son, Bowen, of Appleton City, Wis., and her son-in-law and daughter, the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Griesse, of Kansas City, and their young daughter, Anne, were guests of the William C. # Martha Carr's OPINION

Dear Martha:
My husband is so dissatisfied with his job that he is making the whole family miserable. He comes home in the evening and sits around all evening just feeling sorry for himself or complaining about everything. He hates his boss, he says he isn't getting the breaks he deserves at the plant and he wants to get out of that work altogether. He seems to think he'd be a real fine salesman and he's determined to try it. We've been arguing about it and he tells me people never get anywhere if they don't take a chance. What can I do to persuade him that he's wrong?

PLAIN MAD.

Could be that he isn't altogether wrong. It's true that most people who have gone far in this world have been willing to take a chance rather than always playing it safe, but they have to mix intelligence with their courage. Of course, just getting another kind of job may not solve your husband's problem. He may hate the next boss and bemoan as many lost "breaks" as he does now unless he's determined to take a better attitude toward his work. Sounds to me as though he needs some professional advice before he takes off on a tangent. A good place to get that help is the Vocational Counseling Service of St. Louis, 3936 Lindell boulevard, where experienced case workers will talk to your husband and help him decide what would be his best field of work. Ask him to call OLIVE 2-6500 for an appointment.

Dear Martha:
MY HUSBAND AND I have been having an argument because my boss wants to give me a ride home from the office every afternoon. I live right on his way home so he doesn't go out of his way at all. I don't see why my husband gets so mad but he has even threatened to make me quit my job. I hate to tell my boss that my husband is so jealous that he won't let me ride. What can I do?

WORRIED.

Don't tell him that, for heaven's sake. If he is merely being courteous and has no personal interest in you, it would offend and embarrass him to think your husband was jealous. But I think your husband is right in asking you not to let him keep driving you home. It may mean nothing, but it doesn't look good. So, make some excuse to your boss. Say you're staying downtown for a while or are planning to meet your husband. Keep it casual and if you turn him down several times he'll stop asking you.

IN ANSWER TO Jenny: In conversations with friends and relatives, you refer to your husband by his first name, but with business people or distant acquaintances, you call him "my husband." You do not refer to him as "Mr. Jones."

What to Wear

By Louise Trescott

THE early teens bring clothes-consciousness to most girls. They become acutely observant of what others are wearing and want to do likewise. Their zeal to improve their appearance may well strain their families' patience. To guide them is an interesting, rewarding job. Not many letters hold the hurt the following so unconsciously reveals.

Fourteen-year-old Eleanor writes: "I want a dress to wear this summer when my father takes me out to dinner. My mother and father are divorced. Mother works and we haven't much money. I wondered if $15 is enough. I need shoes, too. I have white gloves and a pearl drop on a gold chain. My hair is brown, my eyes are gray. I am usually pale white. I weigh 92 and am not quite five feet tall. I want to look nice when I meet him. I have not seen him for two years."

IF YOU SHOP CAREFULLY you can find a suitable dress for less than $10. Look for chambay, pique or linen. And look for a very soft turquoise or teal or perhaps a medium green, gently grayed. Any of these colors is cool and inviting for warm summer days—and becoming to you. Even better if it could be touched with white—in collar and cuffs, for instance. I hope it is a very simple style with short sleeves and full skirt. If neckline is low enough, wear your necklace.

WITH THE REMAINING MONEY find flat-heeled shoes in a color blending into or matching your dress. So many colors are available this season it should not be too hard. Wear your white gloves.

Could you manage to buy a small white straw basket bag, decorated with fruit? And a white hat would be the final touch. I picture a round, turned-up brim sitting on the back of your head. Both hat and bag can be had for under $4.

Social Problems

By Emily Post

THE following letter presents a very difficult situation: "What can one say when asked point blank by someone, 'Where did you get your hat?' and then proceeds to ask, 'Do you mind if I get one like it? It's just the type I've been looking for.' I ran into this situation the other afternoon and, not knowing what to say without being rude, I said of course I did not mind and then told her where I bought it. But I did mind—very much. No woman likes to see her hat on someone else. But what does one do?"

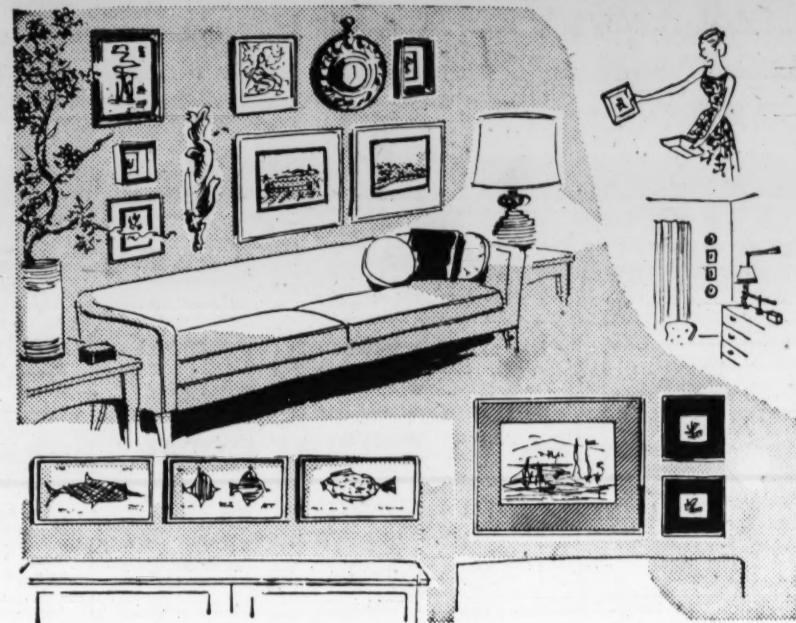

This is a very unfair question for anyone to ask because as you yourself say it is very hard to refuse—in fact almost impossible, unless the hat was especially designed for you. In which case you could say that it was especially made for you and frankly you don't want to have it duplicated. If it is a stock model you really have no excuse.

DEAR MRS. POST: I have a problem which I hope you will be able to solve for me. Very soon I will have to introduce a young married couple to several friends of mine and I am not sure how it should be done. You see, the wife is a doctor and her husband is not.

Answer: If you wish to introduce them both at the time you can say, "Mr. John and Dr. Mary Brown," or more probably you will introduce one first, and then the other—Mr. Brown and then "Her husband, Mr. Brown," or "Mr. Brown" followed by "His wife, Dr. Brown."

Advice on Hanging Pictures

FOLLOW THE FURNITURE FOR GOOD PICTURE GROUPING.

By Elizabeth Hillyer

PICTURES should be hung low, to create a definite feeling of their belonging to the furniture below them. They should be hung close enough to the piece of furniture so they appear to be supported by it, and are with it a complete unit.

This is the basic advice you need before hanging any picture, and especially before tackling the job of grouping a room. Follow the furniture, and the picture hanging is right.

PERHAPS the commonest of all room faults is that pictures hang too high, so that the composition they could make with anything below flies apart. Even pictures that are harmonious in color and style with the room scatter and isolate themselves with wrong hanging. They look distantly down, rather than joining forces for the good of the room's decoration.

The grouping of many pictures of widely varying sizes and techniques has become quite a fashion, and a particularly good one in these days of monotone color schemes for the purpose of making rooms look larger. With limited color and pattern in the room, accessories are more needed for interest; and the most space, where the room can take its most interesting small elements, is on the wall. Pictures are an enormous lift for a room that might otherwise be plain and quiet.

Even a few grouped pictures can be very effective. A long, low series, for example, emphasizes the importance of a long, low chest. And a picture grouping can reach upward from a chest, bed, or desk top to add height where height is much needed.

The few pictures are easy enough to plot, but what should the procedure be when pictures to be hung are many?

FIRST of all, lay the pictures on the floor in front of the furniture they're to look down on and experiment with ideas of arrangement. Then cut paper patterns the sizes of all the pictures—and of other wall decorations, too, if they're to be used. Pin the patterns to a papered wall or Scotch tape them to a painted wall. Rearrange until the composition is right—and make certain that they're low enough and widespread enough for the furniture. Then make faint pencil marks to guide actual hanging.

Yes, pictures sometimes hang well where there's no furniture below them. The proportion of the wall space is then the guide. For a long narrow wall area, for example, plan a grouping that takes a long, narrow shape.

To ASSUME that because he leaves home every day, his life isn't as filled with problems and frustrations as is his own. Wives who think they have the worst of it usually assume that their husbands lead exciting, interesting lives.

To think that because he married her it is his duty to go on visiting her. No man ever loved a woman from a sense of duty.

To compare her husband unfavorably with the men she might have married. If she didn't pick the best of the lot that is her fault, not his.

A Foolish Wife and Her Mistakes

By Ruth Millett

IT'S foolish for a wife: To assume and try to prove that she has better judgment than her husband. The man who is frequently forced to say "You were right, dear" soon changes his mind.

To assume that her husband is just a grouch if he doesn't enjoy entertaining or being entertained by the people the wife considers important. Maybe she ought to look around for a different group of friends.

To LOW-LIFE her husband when she is talking to her women friends. All that gets her is their pity or contempt and no right-thinking woman wants either.

To refuse to share her husband's outside interests. She'll find it is mighty lonesome when he stops asking her to go along. To try and change her husband by pointing out his faults to him. She'll have much better luck if she notices his good qualities and keeps quiet when she is tempted to say "If you only wouldn't . . ." or "If you only would . . ."

To ASSUME that because he leaves home every day, his life isn't as filled with problems and frustrations as is his own. Wives who think they have the worst of it usually assume that their husbands lead exciting, interesting lives.

To think that because he married her it is his duty to go on visiting her. No man ever loved a woman from a sense of duty.

The Dean Speaks Up

Paying the Penalty of Pride

By Adele Starbird

PEAKING of arrogance, as I was recently, I recall a story I heard in Martinique which I repeat with pride.

But first I must tell you that there really is a certain kind of tree growing in the West Indies which is unlike all other tropical trees. Incredibly tall and slender, it sprouts out at the top in ragged, feathered tufts of grayish green. It is called the "filao," which is a corruption of "filago," the Latin "filum" meaning thread. The most casual observer would notice that the filao has a mournful look, vague and ineffectual.

Filao trees, according to the story, are indeed inconsolable. When there is a wind, they moan continuously. On a windless day they meditate in silence upon their misery. Bare and sterile, they never bloom; the birds would not notice the filao if it was a rosebush, no bananas or pineapples, no bushes bearing coffee beans or vanilla beans or coco beans—all the perfumed plants which entice the bees and the birds to animation and gaiety.

The isolation of the filao trees was complete.

They were not always so dejected. In the beginning the Creator gave them abundant fruit, perfume, flowers and rich fruit. But the filao trees passed all that which they had in common with the rest of nature. They wanted to be different and superior. They wanted to be the tallest trees in the world. They complained that they were burdened with flowers and fruit and leaves, and frustrated in their ambition to shoot far up into the sky.

They couldn't stand the loneliness. Swallowing their pride, they begged the Creator to restore to them their flowers and fruit and leaves. But the Creator wasn't so easygoing.

THEN SATAN, who identified himself with the filao, for he too had sinned through immoderate pride, sent a whole squadron of zombies to live in the filao trees.

After that, the filao were shunned by humankind. No man would dare to build his house in the neighborhood of zombies.

When the people departed, all the domestic plants disappeared also. There were no rosebushes, no bananas or pineapples, no bushes bearing coffee beans or vanilla beans or coco beans—all the perfumed plants which entice the bees and the birds to animation and gaiety.

The isolation of the filao trees was complete.

THEY COMPLAINED so much that the Creator decided to let them have their way. They were stripped and streamlined. They grew so tall that the little clouds that had tangled up in their branches.

For awhile they enjoyed their advantage. They could look down on all the other trees. But soon they realized that the other trees didn't care.

The filao were ignored. Since they had no flowers, the bees passed them by, and so did the wasps, the bumble bees and all other insects. Since they had no fruit, the birds would have none of them. Even the snakes abandoned trees that never rocked a bird's nest. The filao had only their own society.
